Edward Wahl, lieutenant of the North school patrol boys, Arlington Heights, aids tiny tots across State road in front of the school. North school patrol captain, Leigh Moore, holds back traffic while group of older boys cross street.

It is estimated that 20 boys and girls were saved from serious injury during the past year due to the work of school patrol boys. Patrol boys were organized in 1937

Break ground for Lutheran home May 25

Ground breaking ceremonies for the new Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged, Arlington Heights, will be held May 25, though actual excavation for the new building is expected to begin within the next two weeks.

REV. J. M. KEMPF, director of the Home, said that contracts for the $1,100,000 building will be let this week. The Home is to be located on an 80 acre tract in the northwest section of the village, bounded by Oakton st. on the south, Ridge on the east, Thomas on the north and Kennicott on the west.

A picture of the proposed building and details of its interior will be published the week prior to the ground breaking.

APRIL BUILDING $551,375

April building in Arlington Heights totaled $551,375. The division of permits issued are as follows: 36 single family residences, $517,950; 21 private garages, $17,988; one office, $4,500; eight additions to housekeeping dwellings, $6,887; two additions to non-residential buildings, $4,050.

MT. PROSPECT POLICE CAPTURE GUN BANDITS

Friend's motorcycle throws its rider

Wm. F. Umbdenstock, Middleton rd., Palatine, was trying out a new motorcycle Saturday afternoon that proved to be a steed which kicked up its heels to such an extent that William was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, Elgin.

Bill had borrowed the cycle from his friend, J. Landinger. When turning north on Roselle road off Palatine, he lost control. The machine first took to the ditch then hit the roadway with such force its rider was thrown many feet suffering injuries to his head and face.

Rookie cop foils looting of home

A 26-year-old rookie Mount Prospect policeman nabbed a bandit armed with a submachine gun late Wednesday afternoon and aided in the capture of two others who sought to rob the Richard Meyers home at 305 Hiawatha trail in Mount Prospect.

Three accomplices were still at large all last night and Mount Prospect police aided by county deputies were searching the area.

Patrolman W. J. Creamer, who has been a member of the department since January 6, captured the bandit as he jumped out of the window of the Meyer home, a sub-machine gun in his hands. Creamer had responded to a call from a neighbor who reported "something funny" at the Meyer home.

After disarming the bandit, Patrolman Creamer marched him into the Meyer home and called George Whittenberg, chief of police. Chief Whittenberg began an immediate search of the area, seeking three men whom Patrolman Creamer had seen fleeing from the home.

Chief Whittenberg was told by a Mt. Prospect mail carrier that a red Packard automobile had been parked on Route 83 a few minutes before. A few minutes later, Whittenberg saw the car traveling south on Route 83. He gave chase and curbed the car near the intersection of Golf rd. Only one man was riding in the car.

Chief Whittenberg returned to the house and was joined by three squads of county deputies. A search of the house uncovered a third youth hiding in a linen closet.

According to Chief Whittenberg, Patrolman Creamer went to the Meyer home to investiate after receiving a call from Mrs. Ray Linnskoog of 700 S. Ioka ave.

Mrs. Linnskoog saw the six men enter the home. One was carrying a brown leather case.

"Something funny's going on next door," she told Patrolman Creamer who answered the telephone.

Chief Whittenberg said one of the three bandits captured also was carrying a .38 caliber pistol. A rope which presumably was to be used to tie up Mrs. Meyer and her two children was found in the brown leather case.

The captured men have refused to reveal their accomplices' names. They listed their own names as Herbert Lube, 22, of 1715 North ave., Belva Whisman, 18, 743 S. Kedzie, and Wallace Lorge, 21, of 5822 N. Bernic ave.

County police said the youths refused to talk but admitted that they went to the Meyer home because "we heard he had money there."

Meyer, a jewelry salesman, does not keep money or valuables in his home, Chief Whittenberg said.

Eastwood Ass'n. lays plans for mosquito abatement program

Members of the Eastwood Community association voted Tuesday night to set in motion plans for a mosquito abatement project in that area of Arlington Heights.

The resolution, which passed by a unanimous vote, gives officers of the association the authority to contract for Eastwood area foggings during the summer in an effort to stem mosquito growth there.

IT ALSO suggests that the civic affairs committee, headed by vice president W. C. McCosh, enter into and promote a unified mosquito abatement program for the village of Arlington Heights.

Funds for the Eastwood program, which would amount to approximately one dollar per family in the area under the present plans, will be taken from the association's treasury.

Matt Cockrell, president of the Eastwood Community association, told members at the meeting held in the field house, that an entomologist would be asked to study the Eastwood area within the next few days and to make specific recommendations.

The expression of the association's members was that every effort should be made to promote a village-wide mosquito abatement program. Should that fail, however, Eastwood will cooperate with other community groups in attempting to control the mosquito problem.

PLANS FOR the Eastwood area would eliminate adult mosquitoes through foggings of the area 10 to 14 days following heavy rains during the summer months.

The civic affairs committee recommended that the association not embark on any large scale larvae control project, since a united effort on a quad-township basis would be required to cope with several large mosquito breeding areas within migrating distance of Arlington Heights.

MEET WITH EASTWOOD

Seven representatives from Arlington Heights met Monday evening to lay preliminary plans for a community-wide mosquito abatement plan.

Attending the meeting called by Matt Cockrell, president of the Eastwood Community association, were Robert Blackburn and Ven Babbitt, Sherwood; Harvey Orndorf, Scarsdale; Gene Carmen, Southwest, and W. C. McCosh and Chuck Bennett, Eastwood.

The group heard reports on mosquito abatement programs carried on in various cities in the northwest area. Ralph H. Jenkins, an entomologist, described the systems now being used on city-wide bases, along with the effectiveness of each.

Members of the group will meet at 8 p.m. May 12 at the home of Matt Cockrell, 905 E. Euclid. Civic and community groups interested in cooperating in such a mosquito abatement are invited to send representatives to the meeting.

'Corsets and bustles cause imperfect forms of women'

After reading a newspaper clipping 60 years old that appears in this week's "Way Back When," a male of today can understand why the 1952 woman wears so few clothes.

The clipping blames corsets, bustles and numerous petticoats for the imperfectly formed woman of the early 1890's.

It also gives the startling statement that the perfect woman wears a shoe half the size of her glove.

A collection of clippings from old newspapers collected by a Palatine young lady, who has since died, has come into possession of Paddock Publications and will be the source of some interesting reading the coming few months.

Milk distributors take over former frozen food locker plant

Arlington Milk Distributors have taken over the building formerly occupied by the frozen food locker plant, S. State rd., Arlington Hts., and are remodeling it to suit their needs.

The company, owned by Richard Michalski and Robert Petersen, originally planned to erect a store and office building on the Northwest highway, but preliminary plans for the proposed Tri-State highway showed that location would no longer be desirable.

Plans call for a new store front, the design of which has not been definitely established. There will be room for two small stores in the front of the building, one to be used by the distributors for the sale of dairy products and home made ice cream, all on a carry out basis. The rest of the building will be devoted to office space and storage of the eight company trucks.

The owners plan to landscape the front and put in a black-top parking area along the north end of the building, thus creating plenty of shopper parking space. They expect to be open for business within a month.

Two new stores are being erected by Raymond Wilke immediately south of this building. Arlington Heights business district is spreading out. These stores are two blocks from the railroad.

4,382 personal property bills thrown into waste baskets in Elk Grove, Palatine, Wheeling by STUART R. PADDOCK, SR.

The closing of the tax books by the collectors of Wheeling, Palatine and Elk Grove townships reveal that the payment of personal property tax bills is no more popular than last year. The public was not frightened by newspaper publicity.

There are a total of 4,382 tax bills that remained unpaid on the closing date of the collection. There were very few farmers among that number. As a group they have always religiously paid their personal property taxes.

"Ten years ago, before the 'invasion' of the area by Chicago residents, from 80 to 90 per cent of the personal property tax bills were paid," stated one of the collectors.

Wheeling township leads in delinquency with 2,000 unpaid bills, Palatine 1800 and Elk Grove nearly 600.

In dollars and cents the figures are something like this:

PALATINE collection		$36,000
Payments by four corporations		20,000
Paid by small firms and individuals		16,000
Amount delinquent, 46%		36,000
ELK GROVE collection, approximate		$20,000
Paid by 3 corporations		10,500
Paid by business and individuals		9,500
Unpaid, approximate		20,000
WHEELING collections		$116,000
Public Service	64,000
Other corps.	26,000	90,000
Paid by business, farmers and individuals		26,000
Delinquent		87,000

The total delinquency in the three townships is $143,000.

The disregard of personal property taxes by so many persons is becoming serious.

Are the persons who pay the tax mere suckers?

Paddock Publications thinks the answer rests with the various taxing bodies, to each of whom has been addressed the following letter:

"A series of three articles have been published in our papers about the amount of personal property tax money that is lost by various taxing bodies.

"If you think the situation is sufficiently acute to merit a study by a special committee, comprising representatives of the various local taxing bodies, will you advise the undersigned with name of person who will serve on such a committee?

"Paddock Publications is not interested in placing any group of individuals on the pan, but is very much interested in learning if the taxing bodies are sincerely desirous in collecting the tax, which is now going unpaid.

"Prompt action on your part should encourage the average citizen to file a 1952 schedule with the assessor, which is the real reason for the drive."

How about Cook Co.?

Delinquent personal property taxes collected since the special county drive began in DuPage co. now total $34,853, Collector Jack DeRosa revealed this week. This figure is expected to grow daily,

IN COMMENTING on the program so far DeRosa remarked:

"The results have been very gratifying and the collections have been good in view of the fact that we had to move slowly until recently when all legal obstacles over the distress warrant method of collection were removed by our state's attorney and the attorney general.

"Their legal opinions found that personal property tax is a legal tax and must be collected either by voluntary payment or forced sale of sufficient personal property to cover the amount of the tax, penalty and costs due."

Palatine woman killed when car hits school bus

Mrs. Ethelyn Johnson, 31, of Palatine, died Saturday afternoon at St. Joseph's hospital, Elgin, two days after an auto accident at Higgins and Barrington roads.

A coroner's jury was unable to decide whether she failed to stop or had stopped and then started up again before her automobile crashed into the side of a bus with school children from Dundee.

She was driving south on Barrington road, the bus was westbound on route 72 returning from Chicago where the children had spent the day on a tour. She was thrown out of her car and was dragged along the pavement for 25 feet beneath the rear dual tired wheel of the bus.

She was accompanied by her two children, Judy, 10, and Bobby, 7, who escaped injury. Occupants of the bus suffered only minor injuries.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at St. Patrick's Catholic church, Rochelle. Deceased was born in Whitewater, Wis., November 30, 1920. She spent her girlhood in Rochelle. She married Al Johnson July 22, 1940, living in Sycamore until a year ago when they moved to the Alabar Stock Farm on Algonquin road west of Ela road.

Cancer fund reaches 45% of suburban goal

All eyes are on the million dollar goal, as the '52 cancer crusaders throughout the Illinois division of the American cancer society begin the last critical stages of the campaign. The crusade was within 60% of the final target when Tom H. Hildebrand, state campaign chairman, convened the "second report meeting" in Chicago's Morrison hotel, May 1.

"Eight of the 93 suburban towns participating in the '52 crusade have gone over their goals," Hildebrand announced. "As a whole, the suburbs have contributed $63,661 to the crusade thus far, or 45% of their target."

Arlington Heights, Mrs. Harold E. Olson, chairman, has reached 21% of its goal.

Bartlett - Wayne - Ontarioville, Mrs. Robert E. McCleary, 75%.

Bensenville, John W. Geils, 2%.

Itasca, Mrs. Harold A. Davenport, 40%.

Mt. Prospect, Mrs. R. A. Schlarb, 82%.

Northbrook, Thomas R. Peterson, 13%.

Palatine, Roy LaLonde and Mrs. Gerald McElroy, 149%.

Prairie View, Mrs. Heinz Loeffler and Mrs. Thornton S. Adams, 129%.

Roselle-Bloomingdale, Mrs. Bernard Pliska, 35%.

Wood Dale, William D. Becker, 55%.

Palatine and Arlington boys fined for disturbance

It was after midnight when two Palatine boys and a friend from Arlington Heights thought it was a lark to scare a Barrington young couple.

They had been trailing the other car over a number of streets, when the young lady hailed an officer, who took the three boys into custody.

They paid substantial fines, begging that their parents would not be notified of their experience.

Two companions were not held. Fines of $10, $20, and $30 were assessed.

Report for induction

Three more boys from Local Board No. 101, selective service, were ordered to report for induction May 2.

Two of the three men, Lloyd E. Duzell and Gerald N. Geimer, were from Arlington Heights, and the third, Ralph L. Thies, was from Barrington.

Friendly suit may settle annexation referendum

Arlington Heights village board Monday night deferred action on the referendum pertaining to the Kirchhoff annexation until a judicial determination is made that such referendum should be called.

Hugo Thal, the village attorney, explained to the board that there is a legal question whether the statute which authorized the annexation procedure employed, also required a referendum. He stated that the only way in which this could be ascertained was by a judicial finding.

George Hoban, a signer of the petition for the referendum, joined in the legal discussion.

It appears there are two alternative law suits which could be filed. The first is a declaratory judgment suit which would be filed by the village in the circuit court.

THERE IS LEGAL uncertainty as who must be named the defendants, but it is certain that one or all of the signers of the petition are defendants.

Mr. Hoban indicated there are 320 signers and if all had to be defendants each singer would have to be served with a summons by the Sheriff's office.

The Sheriff charges $4.90 for each service in Arlington Heights which could result in an original expenditure by the village of $1500 to $1600 plus the fact the village is in the position of suing 320 of its citizens.

The original cost could be reduced to $25 if all of the signers of the petition would, in writing, authorize Hoban to file their appearance without a summons having to be served.

THE SECOND method would be for the petitioners (one or all) to file a mandamus action in the circuit court. In this case the members of the board would be the defendants and the cost of filing would be $50.

Hoban stated that to file this action at this time the board would have to formaliy decide against a referendum and the village attorney would have to agree to waive technical defenses as to time of filing.

Regardless of the method employed, the result would be the same, namely, a court ruling as to the issue involved. In the event either party appealed the ruling of the circuit court, a final result could not be expected before late 1952 or early 1953.

The board approved a motion authorizing Mr. Thal to pursue such legal course of action that would produce the desired court ruling. The motion did not incorporate a restriction that the method which would result in the least cost should be employed.

MESSRS. THAL and Hoban stated that they would discuss the issues involved in an endeavor to employ such legal methods as would produce the result at the least cost and still preserve the respective rights of the interested parties.

All legal maneuvers could be avoided if the board would call the referendum. Forrest Davis, the village clerk, advises that the cost of an election would be between three and four hundred dollars. Apparently, the board members prefer the uncertainted legal costs to be incurred and the court actions rather than submit the issue to the voters.

If the voters supported the annexation, the issue would then be dead. If the voters opposed the annexation, there would then be time for the board to test the legal aspects of the vote itself by a declaratory judgment suit.

Million dollar high school addition has 'million dollar look'

The million dollar addition to Arlington Heights township high school will be dedicated Sunday, May 18, at 3 p.m., the ceremonies being conducted in the new gymnasium.

Guest speaker for the dedication will be John L. Bracken, superintendent of schools in Clayton, Mo., seat of St. Louis county, since 1923. He has also served as instructor or consultant at Pennsylvania State college, Washington university, University of Chicago, and at the state universities of Kansas, Missouri, Oregon, and Colorado.

SUPT. BRACKEN, who received the master's degree from the University of Chicago and the bachelor's and LL. D. degrees from the College of Emporia, Kan., has spoken to school and general audiences in more than half of the states.

Following the dedication exercises the visitors will be allowed to tour the new addition. A sneak preview was given the reporter Monday afternoon of the nearly completed classrooms, band and music rooms, cooking and sewing labs, practice rooms, all of which are expected to be in a completed stage by the day of dedication.

The first room viewed was the men's faculty room, complete with its colonial blonde settees and lounge chairs. Heretofore the men's faculty room was a mere make-shift affair in the furnace room. By the way, the color scheme of the entire addition is highlighted with driftwood green walls, set off with desert sand woodwork and lockers. All furnishings are in the blonde motif.

THE NEXT stop was the gigantic stage located at one end of the new gym. Folding doors separate the stage from the gym, and its facilities are used for the concert band rehearsals. At present the stage is devoid of curtains and lights needed for theatrical productions, but it is hoped these will be purchased in the not too distant future. While on stage the reporter also got a look at the new concert grand piano which was purchased from funds raised by student organizations and certain percentages from the annual magazine drives.

The next stop was the sewing room, which is simply a "paradise" for seamstresses. Its furnishings include a private fitting room, complete with mirror and sink; a built-in dye lab, where dressmaking students can test their materials for shrinkage and color fastness; a triple mirror, scores of tote draws, one to be assigned to each student, which can be taken out during her sewing period and placed in an open drawer slot at her sewing table; and last, but by far the most important, eight blonde electric Singer sewing machines. Closets with sliding hanger units for keeping partially finished garments free from wrinkles, are another feature.

A step further down the hall takes one into a now vacant room, but what will eventually be the "parlor," a place where students will learn how to arrange furniture, select proper wallpaper and accessories, and where those studying nurses' aid work will learn how to make a sick room bed, as well as take care of a sick room.

Stork wins race; makes delivery in funeral home

Charles Roe Mills has the rare distinction of starting out life in a funeral home.

The stork caught up with Mrs. Edward M. Mills Jr. of East County Line rd., Barrington, shortly before 6 p. m. Saturday while her husband was negotiating for an ambulance at the Fairbanks-Stirlen chapel at 149 W. Main st., Barrington.

Starting out for Sherman hospital, the couple got to the village when they realized a faster mode of transportation was necessary.

The prospective father rushed in and announced to William Stirlen, formerly of Arlington Heights, "I need an ambulance right away, my wife is having a baby." "You need a doctor," said Stirlen. Seeing the urgency of the situation, Stirlen told Mills to drive his car into the chapel garage and he proceeded to call a doctor.

Dr. Paul Gaskill arrived at the scene in a few minutes, and within 10 minutes after the frantic summons, at 5:59 p. m., delivered the 7 pound 4 ounce baby boy in the front seat of the family car.

A short time later mother and baby were placed in the ambulance and taken to Sherman hospital and both are doing nicely.

The Mills couple also has a daughter, Meredith, who is 2½.

Hold special election June 7 to vote on new grade schools

A special election will be held June 7 to vote upon the building of two new elementary schools in Arlington Heights.

The board of education has found it necessary to postpone the election previously planned fro May 24.

A recent opinion from bond attorneys that a petition must also be filed requesting an election on the school site to be purchased has caused the postponement.

In addition to these two buildings, voters will be asked to approve $38,000 to purchase approximately eight acres of land between the Junior high school and Park st., now owned in part by the Arlington Heights park district and the Catholic Bishop of Chicago. The ballot will also include a proposition to authorize the board to issue an additional $30,000 for the grading, paving, and landscaping in connection with the Dryden Place school now under construction.

The bond issues for the two schools, also to be on the ballot, provide for $195,000 for the Arlington Ridge school and $212,000 for the new South school, making a total bond issue of $475,000

A careful study of expected enrollments has convinced the board and those who have studied the projections, this is the minimum program it would be practical to propose. The average number per grade in the Junior high school presently is 122, while the number of fourth grade children in the system is 176, the number of first graders is 191, and the number of kindergarten children next year is expected to be more than 300.

Robert R. Lockwood, president of the board, said, "It is this kind of increased enrollment, plus the fact many homes are now under construction and many more will probably be built in the next few years, which makes it imperative that the district act now if we are to have schools for our children."

The problems of the schools and the proposed solutions are fully described in a brochure published by the board. This brochure is being mailed to all elementary school parents, to many pre-school parents, and to civic leaders and village officials. However, the board is certain their mailing list does not include all interested citizens and they urge anyone wishing a brochure to contact the superintendent's office so a copy can be mailed.

While this brochure carries the orginal date as the day of the election, the board wishes to remind voters that this referendum will be held June 7.

W. H. SPOMER NEW PARK BOARD PRESIDENT

W. H. Spomer was elected president of the Arlington Hts. Park District board of commissioners at their meeting Tuesday night.

Other officers elected are: L. J. Dahlgren, vice-president; W. E. Becker, secretary, and G. M. Benson, treasurer.

E. W. Hadland is the retiring president.

25 piece orchestra, with soloists to highlight next concert season

A great treat is in store for the membership of Arlington Heights Community Concert association during the fall and winter season of 1952-53.

The association has a hold date on a new and outstanding ensemble attraction, "The Gershwin Concert Orchestra Company."

With the blessing of the Gershwin family, a special orchestra of 25 pieces has been in rehearsal for a year to be conducted by Lorin Maazel. Soloists will include concert pianist Jesus Maria Sanroma, soprano, Carolyn Long, and baritone, Theodor Uppman.

THIS GROUP of 30 will run the gamut from pop to long-hair. It will include well known melodies; songs by soprano and baritone, piano solos and orchestrations of "American in Paris," selections from "Porgy and Bess" and the "Rhapsody in Blue."

This is only one of four outstanding concerts to be presented this next season.

Memberships will be available to everyone who wishes to join the Arlington Heights Community Concert association. These are available for one week only during the annual membership campaign May 12 through May 17.

MEMBERSHIPS to the association entitle the individual to attend four concerts during the fall and winter season. And it is only through a membership that these concerts are available, no single admissions are sold.

An extremely low price has been established nationally through the 1700 associations in the United States and Canada—adults $6 and students through college age $3.50.

This past season the concrets were Gladys Swarthout, which is a name familiar to everyone, Bartlett and Robertson, a piano team of national renown, Ossy Renardy, one of the top violinists in the country and the Men of Song, a group that is famed for its rendition of classical, light opera, and popular music. And all this fine talent right in Arlington Heights for the price of $6.

A VOLUNTEER group of loyal members will devote the week of May 12 calling on all residents of Inverness, Palatine, Arlington Heights, Prospect Heights, Mount Prospect and Wheeling, giving everyone an opportunity to become members of this non-profit association. If by chance anyone is missed, headquarters have been established at the Emerald Shop in Arlington Heights at 10 N. Dunton and memberships are available there.

IF THE HIGH school fails to turn out any good cooks it won't be because it lacks facilities for teaching. The new cooking room is the most modern of its kind. It has six complete individual kitchens, some all electric, some all gas, and some a combination of both. They include stoves, refrigerators and sinks, as well as a built-in Pullman kitchen, where students will learn how to prepare a full meal in the smallest of spaces. The room holds a complete automatic laundry unit, washer and dryer, which will afford all girls the opportunity of learning how to operate the latest home laundry equipment. A deep freezer is another of the room's furnishings, and will aid in teaching the storage and preparation of frozen foods.

A total of 15 classrooms, including sewing, cooking, and band rooms, are found on the upper floors of the new addition, as are student restrooms, another lounge for lady teachers, complete with bamboo furniture, coaches' shower room and two or three small offices, which will be available for use of faculty members who need them.

Of course the gigantic new gym is also located on the upper floor, its balconies with folding bleachers available for certain gymnastics classes, such as tumbling and trampoline, and its large foyer available for wrestling or similar activities.

DOWN IN THE basement the reporter viewed one of the largest cafeterias ever seen in this area. The accompanying kitchen is also huge and one of the cooks, Miss Ella Garms, said, "We don't get in one another's way in these new quarters." It wasn't hard to see why not. The kitchen has modern dishwashing equipment, as well as refrigeration and stoves, and a push button ventilating system, which keeps the kitchen free from odors.

JOHN L. BRACKEN

At one end of the cafeteria is a portable stage, which will be available for play rehearsals, small gatherings which call for a stage, or other similar purposes.

Another feature in the basement is the school's own laundry room, complete with automatic washer and dryer, where all of the school's laundry is now done by one of the janitors.

Words can't really describe the beauty of this new addition, but the foregoing is a general idea of what guests will see on the dedication tour.

NEW PRESCRIPTION LAW

On April 26, 1952, a new law was passed which prohibits the refilling of certain prescriptions unless so specified by the prescribing physician. This federal law, known as the Durham Humphrey Act, specifically affects 3 classes of drugs, namely:

1.—Non exempt narcotics.
2.—Habit forming hypnotic drugs.
3—Other drugs which are not safe for self medication.

These 3 classes of medication include such preparations as phenobarbital and its derivatives, thyroid, penicillin, and related biotics, dexedrine, most sulfa drugs, some antihistamines; and many others too numerous to list completely. You can see by the few drugs listed here that the law was passed for the safety of the public and as such will be upheld by your pharmacist.

The next time you take a prescription to be refilled be patient with your pharmacist if he can not refill it until he gets confirmation from your doctor, for he is only conforming with federal law and is trying to protect and maintain your good health.

Please do not ask your pharmacist to violate federal or state laws which make it unlawful for him to sell you certain restricted drugs that can be dispensed only on prescription by your doctor.

1st wooden lung to be placed in Prospect Heights

The Prospect Heights fire station has been designated by the Wheeling Township Jaycees as the location for the first wooden lung respirator.

High school shop teacher John Griffith, under whose direction the lung has been built, explained that the selection of Prospect Heights is based on the fact that the polio season is drawing near and that the most central location for the entire township is of utmost importance until such time as other respirators can be constructed.

THE PUBLIC will have its first opportunity to see the lung at "The One Lung Hop," a benefit dance to be given by the Jaycees Friday, May 16, at Zur Alten Heimat. Funds from the dance will be used to further increase the medical facilities of Wheeling township. The Jaycees are hopeful that the local communities will support their efforts for improved medical aid by the purchase of tickets for the dance.

Tickets, which are $2 per couple, are available at the following places: Triangle Motor Sales, Wheeling; Harry and Sons at corner of State and Rand rds.; Keefer's Drug Store, Mt. Prospect; Prospect Heights Hardware, Shellop Electric, Arlington Heights.

Junior high graduates register for high school

One of the exciting events in the lives of the graduating Arlington Heights Junior high school students during these last few weeks of school is the registering for high school, which process was begun with a meeting in the Junior high school gymnasium Wednesday evening.

At this meeting the graduates and their parents met with Harold Slichenmyer, dean of boys and director of guidance at Arlington Heights township high school, and Gaylord Hughes of the high school staff, to learn of some of the various courses that are offered to incoming freshmen. Each of the above persons talked to the graduates and their parents, explaining some phase of high school life to the group, so that this year's leaders in the Junior high school program may enter their interesting high school program well prepared for what is to come.

Each parent and student took home a high school handbook and various registration forms that are to be filled out in the next few days and sent to the high school for processing. Each parent and graduate learns of the many electives to be taken and courses to be followed, so they can begin to make plans for a four year program in high school following the lines of their own special interests. This program may be changed and adjusted later on as the students' interests change, but this meeting does form the beginning of the planning.

Tri State route thru Arlington is released

Engineer's drawings have been completed for the proposed route of Tri-State highway from its present terminus at Dempster st. to Arthur and Oakton st. in the northern part of the village of Arlington Heights.

Persons residing along Busse rd., between Higgins and Central rd., are much interested in its exact route. A word description follows.

The extension of the highway from its present terminus at Oakton will be on the east side of Busse rd. It will cross over to the west side in the vicinity of the present sharp "S" curve in Busse rd., just south of the intersection with rte. 58.

The viaduct over Golf rd. (rte. 58) will be west of Busse rd., but a "clover leaf" for entrance and exit purposes will take in the present residence of George Busse on the east and will also extend into the farm of Louis Busse to the west. The new highway will swing still further west beginning at the intersection of Busse rd. and Lincoln, and will pass along the back of the homes now located on the west side of Busse rd.

TRI-STATE will by-pass Central rd., passing underneath that highway. Nearing the Northwest highway the new road will swing a little to the west, starting the curve that will take the road on the west edge of the sewage treatment plant and to the east side of Stonegate, passing beneath the Chicago and North Western railroad and Northwest hwy., which will be elevated at that point.

Entrance and exit at Central rd., Northwest hwy. and Foundry, will be by means of an auxiliary highway, with a "horse shoe" at Northwest highway that will take in Forest ave. and a partial clover leaf at Foundry.

Southbound traffic on Tri-State will enter that highway by means of an auxiliary road from Foundry, or from E. Davis st.

The highway will pass Stonegate a half block east of Gibbins st., the present east boundary of that subdivision.

Tri-State will veer to the west after passing beneath Foundry rd., reaching the section line, known as Arthur st., a quarter of a mile south of Oakton st.

A full clover leaf extending 80 rods on each side will be constructed at Euclid ave., which will pass over the new road at a point 80 rods from the west section line.

Highway officials say there is no need to get excited about immediate condemnation proceedings as it will be several years before it will be constructed. The purpose of the present plat is a guide to property owners.

Health officer has busy half year in Heights

Mrs. Marian Bloecker, Arlington Heights health officer, submitted a six month health report to the village board Monday night.

THE REPORT registered a complaint against Disposal trucks which are parked during the noon hour behind the barbershop at the corner of Evergreen and Sigwalt, while the drivers sort the garbage. This is in violation of the village's health ordinance, and, despite warnings by the health office to discontinue this practice, the violation is still being made.

Police Chief Carl H. Skoog will be asked to investigate and to bring pressure to bear if the practice is continued.

Since November 1 Mrs. Bloecker reported the following number of cases of contagious diseases in the village: chickenpox, 71; measles, 261; scarlet fever, 3; mumps, 3; whooping cough, 3; polio, one mild case last November.

VIOLATIONS of zoning restrictions reported at the last board meeting have been investigated by the police. Chief Skoog reported that the owner of the property at 815 W. Euclid, who has been using same for storing salvaged plane parts, has promised to clean up the debris, but that it would take approximately 30 days to complete the job.

A further investigation will be made regarding the operation of a trucking business from a residential home at 1304 W. Vine, in the Arlingdale subdivision. The owner told the police he is building a garage for truck storage, but it is still questionable as to whether or not he can continue conducting his private business from that address.

The police will be asked to investigate the living conditions of Mexican help living on the L. B. Anderson farm on E. Euclid. Several complaints have been registered regarding this matter.

Plans and specifications for street, sewer and water improvements in several proposed subdivisions will be considered at a special meeting of the board Thursday night, May 8.

REV. J. M. KEMPF, director of the Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged, submitted a dedication plat for Oakton st., which fronts the 80 acre tract of land upon which the new Home will be built. The plat will be referred to the plan commission, which meets Thursday, May 8. Our Lady of Arlington novitiate on E. Euclid, has also offered to dedicate a 33 foot right-of-way for Dryden st., which runs along the west end of its property. The village will pay all costs involved in the dedication of these streets.

The board heard the first reading of an amendment to the building code regarding space requirements in utility rooms of basementless homes.

A special meeting will be held to complete the appointment of village employees and special committees serving the village for the coming year.

Industry's responsibility to schools told area school group

Industry is anxious to help support a sound program of elemental education, Fred A. Miller, educational director of the midwest division of the National Association of Manufacturers, told local school authorities at a recent meeting of the Arlington Area school board association.

He outlined industry's view of its responsibility to schools in a nine point program, stressing emphatically the fact that the free enterprise system which has made this country foremost should continue to exist.

"Text books," he said, "have generally done a poor job of teaching an understanding of how our democracy came into being."

Educators and industrialists working together have recognized that schools are having serious financial difficulties, and the NAM has launched an unprecedented campaign to rally business enterprise to provide additional funds to maintain and improve our educational institutions.

Industry, said Miller, would be glad to pay increased taxes for local education, and seeks support in its efforts to have federal taxes reduced. Federal taxes took $4,816,000,000 out of Illinois last year, he quoted, and asked that this figure be compared with the amount spent on education.

FEDERAL AID to education, with its implications to academic freedom, is the alternative course if industry does not give more financial support.

A trained educator, Miller cited ways in which the NAM is prepared to assist schools in improving and carrying out their curriculums, and suggested some reforms he considered essential to the training of future citizens. More must be done, he said, to acquaint the schools and students with industry, and indutrialists with the schools.

Arlington Heights high school had an industry day a year ago, when teachers visited local business firms and learned their methods of operation first hand.

Effort must be put forth to encourage selected students to follow the teaching profession. Preparation should begin in high schools.

TEACHING THE facts of communism has been a "colossal flunk," Miller said. The problem must be faced and young people must be appraised of the goals

Attend Tri-County I.A.S.B. meeting

School administrators and board members of Arlington Heights schools are among those attending the Tri-County division, Illinois Association of School Boards, annual meeting and dinner, being held today, May 8, at the Hotel Morrison, Chicago.

The program includes five discussion groups dealing with topics of timely interest to board members. R. E. Clabaugh, superintendent of Arlington Heights public schools, is participating in a panel discussing "Are school boards and their administrators wasting each other's time?"

The dinner meeting in the mural room will begin at 6:15 p.m.

HERE'S THE PITCH

by VIVIAN ERWIN

Have fun with music! These four words, casual as they seem, best summarize the modern philosophy of public school music. It is our hope and aim that as each child matures he will want to make music, in some form or another, a part of his life. In order to reach this goal we need to offer varied experiences in music that are fun. We must foster and develop the will to be musical.

With such a philosophy the vocal music program takes on a much broader scope than just singing. It is a false notion that we are attempting to make skilled singers of the boys and girls. The musicality of a child is not based on his or her ability to sing or play an instrument. In fact the core of music education should be thought of in terms of appreciation in its most inclusive form.

VERY OFTEN the most musical child in a class is one who, try as he might, even with the aid of two of the proverbial bushel baskets, can't seem to carry a tune. How do we know he's musical? There is that deeper sense of appreciation of music that makes itself evident in forms other than singing.

For example, we play a record in the class. During the discussion period that follows it frequently happens that non-singers are the leaders. They can clearly tell how the music made them feel, what it made them think of, or what it "told them to do." The music had a meaning for them, regardless of their lack of singing ability.

We all know of someone who can't sing, play, or read a note. Yet, he has an enviable record collection and can discuss composers and their music. Perhaps he is a faithful subscriber to a community concert series. Perhaps he particularly enjoys and succeeds as a good dancer. Can we neglect those children whose forte does not happen to be singing?

A vocal music program is not a luxury to a school system. Music is another agent and approach in helping children learn fundamental habits and attitudes. It also provides opportunity for emotional release, self-expression, and an opportunity to follow the creative impulse.

FROM THE TIME a child first enters school he needs to be a good listener. Directed listening to music obviously develops this important habit. Singing games and folk dances? They have a special role. Not only does this type of activity aid in the learning of social grades, and help coordination, but it is a selfless activity. It is one of the few times when we must think of the other person. Regardless of how meager our talent, we all like to create. In music a youngster can use his imagination to create his own rhythmic responses, act out a song, or make up new words to a familiar song. With help he can make up melodies These are a few of the assets of a music program.

Singing, playing, rhythmics, listening and creating — these are the activities through which we hope to stimulate and motivate boys and girls to have fun with music, not for just the present, but for the future as well.

Yes, teaching public school music is more than a pitch pipe!

Police 'sell safety' to 2300 pupils

Twenty-three hundred Arlington Heights elementary school students were made safety conscious this past week, through an intensive safety program given by the police department in charge of Patrolman Oscar Johnson.

Every boy and girl in all four public and parochial schools was shown a movie entitled, "The Case of Tommy Tucker." The movie stressed the importance of being alert and careful at all times, and anyone who was careless for even one minute joined the ranks of the "gnome-skulls." dwarfed, stupid looking characters who would never be permitted on Safety Island, the final reward for all careful boys and girls.

FOLLOWING the movie Patrolman Johnson briefed the youngsters on the importance of safety, giving them pointers to follow, whether crossing streets on foot or driving their bikes. He stressed the importance of obeying the patrol boys, which number 100 in Arlington Heights, and the necessity of having their bikes in tip-top shape at all times.

As a follow-up to this every bike is being checked this week to see they are in good operating condition and to place the new 1952-53 license plates on them.

"Tickets will be issued to all children who violate the law while driving their bicycles," said Johnson. "This is an added precaution to help make children safety conscious, not only during safety week, but all year 'round."

CHILDREN receiving tickets will not be fined, but they will be required to have them signed by their parents and returned to the police department.

Police Chief Carl H. Skoog urges all parents to cooperate with this safety measure. "If your child brings home a ticket, note what violation is marked, then stress to your child the importance of being careful at all times while driving his bike," said Chief Skoog.

Examination announced for rural carrier

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination to fill the position of rural carrier at Arlington Heights, Illinois.

The examination will be held at Arlington Heights.

Receipt of applications will close on May 29, 1952.

by MRS. CHARLES KULE

Long, lazy spring and summer days; just made for reading that favorite book. Whether in the shade of a screened breeze-way or acquiring a sun-tan in your back yard, many an otherwise dull hour may be brightened by the reading of a good book.

Each week your local library is happy to add new and interesting facts and fiction to its ever growing shelf list. A new feature of your library, designed for you, the reader, in the form of a "Suggestion Box" has ben placed on the charging desk. Any suggestions you may make with regard to new book selections, etc., will be welcome.

AMONG THE many new books on the rental shelf are the following: "Spark of Life," by Erich Maria Remarque, author of "Arch of Triumph." Remarque alone among living novelists could have written this story. Only the author of "All Quiet on the Western Front" could create so total a picture of human anguish—its sight, smell, texture, taste and sound.

Only the author of "Arch of Triumph" could detect the spark of life, the beacon of victory, in the midst of darkness and despair. In these hours of crisis a master novelist reaffirms his belief in the indomitable human spirit. To a world of disillusionment he offers a ringing denial that any tyrany can destroy the creature made by God in his own image: The spark of life, still burning in one soul, can flame up against the forces of evil, can shatter the nightmare and the night.

To be added to his many success stories is "The Saracen Blade," by Frank Yerby; the story of Pietro di Donati, son of a blacksmith. Pietro's life was like a medieval tapestry, woven of dark and bright threads. His was a wanderer's life, too. This is a big story, with sweep and grandeur, moving through too-dark, too-bright times, strangely like our own, played out in the crowded, dark streets of the medieval towns, to the blast of trumpets and the clangor of arms, in the silence of the desert, in the courts of the greatest ruler that Europe has ever known. How Pietro, born a serf, won through it all to the high places and the great-hearted love of the one woman who truly loved him makes the tale.

"Himalayan Assignment," by F. Van Wyck Mason; "The Private Papers of Senator Vandenberg;" "The Houses in Between," by Howard Spring;" "A Lamp for Nightfall." by Erskine Caldwell; "The Richer Harvest," by Elizabeth Corbett; "Jumping Jupiter," by the co-author of "Cheaper by the Dozen;" "Skoal Scandinavia," by Edward Streeter; all best-sellers are available.

The mystery reader will welcome "The Darkening Door," by Bill S. Ballinger; "Heavy Heavy Hangs," a Crime club selection by Doris Miles Disney; "A Town of Masks," by Dorothy Salisbury Davis; "The Man in the Middle," by Ferguson Fondley; "The Crooked Frame," by William P. McGivern.

The teen-ager will enjoy Janet Lambert's new book, "Don't Cry, Little Girl" and "Linda Kent, Student Nurse," by Dorothy Deming, R. N. Always popular books with the young set, these two books will prove no exception.

"Briar, a Collie," by Margaret S. Johnson; "Grandpa Toggle's Wonderful Book," by Robert L. Grimes, and the "Lonesome Sorrel," by Keith Robertson will appeal to the small fry.

Two new science-fiction stories, "Marooned on Mars," by Lester Del Rey and "Earthbound," by Milton Lesser, will be in great demand by the young scientists.

Plan a reading program in your leisure summer days ahead and enjoy the many fine books available within a few minutes from your home at your local library.

17 burglaries, 10 gambling raids keep deputies busy

One person was killed and 46 others were injured in 90 automobile accidents investigated by county highway patrolmen in the northwest area during April.

The monthly report also shows that county officers made ten gambling raids and confiscated eight slot machines.

The officers answered 336 calls and investigated 336 complaints, including 17 burglaries and four robberies.

Mothers' club to elect officers

Election of officers will be held at the next regular meeting of the Mothers' club of St. Peter's Lutheran school, Arlington Heights, May 9, at 8 p. m. in the school basement.

Plans are also being formed for the mothers' and children's banquet to be held May 16.

Following the business meeting, William Gappert will show a colored movie on interior decorating. His discussion with the movie should help those with decorating problems.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the evening.

Mother's day services at Faith church

Mother's day will be observed in Faith Sunday school and church, 431 S. State rd., Arlington Heights, May 11. Children of beginner and primary departments will present a special program of recitations, songs and pantomime for mother in the parish hall at 9:30 a.m. The little tots will receive a small token of love to give to their mothers.

All children will attend the church service with their parents at 10:45 a.m. The chancel flowers will be presented by the Sunday school as a tribute of love to mother. Special hymns of praise by the Sunday school chorus and vested junior choir will be featured. The message of the day will be given by the pastor, Rev. Edgar H. Behrens. The community is invited.

East Maine Home Bureau

East Maine Home Bureau will meet at the home of Mrs. A. Schroeder, Dempster st., Des Plaines, May 15 at 10 a. m.

The lesson, "Hearty Salads as the Main Dish," will be given by Mrs. A. Dreyer and Mrs. H. Schlotterbeck before noon, so that members may be served the various dishes for luncheon.

Mayor asks all nurses to register May 10

Arlington Heights will join the first district, Illinois State Nurses association, which, by direction of the American Nurses association, will have a nurse registration day May 10, from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., at the village hall.

It is anticipated that all graduate professional nurses and all practical nurses, active and inactive, will register.

The Arlington Heights Nurses club, Mrs. Richard J. Chambers, president, will be in charge of the registration, according to Mayor Albert W. Goedke, who urges all nurses in the area to register Saturday. Nurses who are unable to register at the village hall during the hours listed above are requested to write Mrs. Richard J. Chambers, 345 Bristol lane, Arlington Heights.

BY HAVING a nurse registration day in the first district, which includes Cook, Lake and DuPage counties, the following civic resources will be realized:

1. Each community will know its nurse strength.
2. With the cooperation of the American Red Cross, a roster of nurse volunteers in the American Red Cross Chicago chapter area in the event of a major civilian disaster will be obtained. (The ARC Chicago Chapter Area is identical to the First District, I.S.N.A. area except for the northern half of Lake county.)
3. It will ascertain the nurse strength of the First District, I.S.N.A., and will have material for future surveys by the national resources board.

Play day at Junior high school May 15

Each spring, as a culmination of instruction in physical education classes in various phases of track and field work, a play day is held for all members of Arlington Heights Junior high school student body. Play day will be held Thursday, May 15, beginning at 10:50 a.m., and continuing on through the afternoon until all events are concluded just prior to departing time of buses to take pupils home at 3 p.m.

The events of the day are as follows and are divided into two classifications to enable more students to win the coveted ribbons given for winning a first, second, or third place in the events. The students are divided into classes, one class for all those who weigh more than 105 pounds, and another class for those who weigh less than 105 pounds.

Contestants are further divided into class groups, and so are competing as nearly as it can possibly be arranged against those who are their equals in years, size, strength, and ability. Grouping contestants first by class groups, and then by weight within the class groups has greatly increased the interest in, and the number of participants in the various events.

Events for boys: High jump, broad jump, shot put, 50 yard shuttle relay, 50 yard dash, tug-of-war, baseball throw, and free throw contest.

Events for girls: Baseball throw, basketball shooting, soccer kick for distance, 50 yard dash, 50 yard shuttle relay, volleyball, softball, deck tennis, and paddle tennis.

Ribbons for winners of various events will be awarded in a special assembly to be held May 21

Arlington Heights gives $2,800 to Christmas seals

Arlington Heights residents contributed $2,869.37 in the recent Christmas seal fund-raising campaign. A total of $604,001.97 was raised in the whole of Cook county. Ninety-four per cent of this amount will be used for local TB control projects in communities, schools, and industries —such as free chest x-raying, health education, and rehabilitation services.

New bulb ideal for closet

Good lighting can be a valuable asset to good grooming, say General Electric lighting specialists.

However, don't expect a regular bare bulb with its blinding harsh lighting to provide the answer to closet lighting needs.

The new 50-GA mushroom-shaped bulb which is a miniature lighting fixture in itself is ideally suited to average-size closets.

This 50-watt bulb with its special shape and finish gives soft, mellow light that requires no shade or shield for eye comfort.

As shown in the photograph above, simply insert the 50-GA bulb in the socket for generous amounts of upward and downward lighting.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

Members of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church will entertain their daughters at dinner this Friday evening in the church. The men of the families will be present only backstage or in a working capacity, for they are assisting in the kitchen and members of Boy Scout troop 7 will serve.

Entertainment will be in the form of a pantomime with music and readings. It will depict incidents in childhood, girlhood and motherhood, with Mrs. Herman Meyer, Mrs. George Vitoux, Mrs. James Bliss, Mrs. Robert Marsh and Mrs. Charles Bennett taking part.

The time of this dinner is appropriately the Friday before Mother's day, with the mothers hostesses to their daughters and the girls starting off the celebration of that special day in advance.

Concert time

Next week is the time that comes once a year—the time to join the Community Concert association for the next season. The association brings four programs by noted musical artists to the Arlington Heights high school gym for a total cost of $6 for the season, including tax.

The membership drive is conducted during this one week only, with both renewals and new memberships available at this time. Those who are not contacted by committee members may apply to the group's headquarters in the Emerald shop from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. any day through Saturday, May 17.

The announcement last week that one concert will feature all Gershwin music and will bring an orchestra, pianist and three vocalists here on a single program is an intriguing one and should serve to cause music lovers to make a sure thing of hearing it—by joining the Community Concert association.

For the choosing

The close to 150 local women who showed an interest in learning golf by signing the coupon that has been appearing in the Arlington Herald in recent weeks so overwhelmed professional Dan Taggart of Arlington Country club that he scheduled two nights per week for the free sessions instead of just one.

Tuesday of this week saw the first lesson, and it is being repeated tonight, Thursday, for those who find it more convenient to attend then. Schedule for the four nights includes, the grip, backswing, follow through and a review of all three steps.

Paddock Publications and the club are cooperating in these lessons designed to help the women of the community — beginning golfers and those who know a little about the game—to acquire the fundamentals and thus become better golfers and enjoy the game more.

Cards and refreshments

Though St. John's Episcopal church is actually in Mount Prospect, many local people call it their church home, and many Arlington ladies will be helping support the good works of its Evening guild by playing at its benefit card party Monday evening.

The party, to be held at the field house, will begin at 8 p.m. with tickets being $1 each. Proceeds will augment the building fund of the church. Chairman is Mrs. R. C. DeZur. Homemade cakes and coffee will be served, with popcorn and soft drinks also available throughout the evening. There will, of course, be special table attractions.

Mt. Prospect man now managing director of trade magazine

Herbert A. Vance, president of Vance publishing corp., announced that Robert E. Russell, formerly managing editor of American Lumberman & Building Products Merchandiser publication, has been promoted to managing director of the firm's new magazine Home Maintenance & Improvement.

Bob Russell moved to Mt. Prospect from Indianapolis four years ago, at the time he became associated with Vance publishing Corp., and now resides at 903 E. Central, with his wife and two sons. He is a member of the board of stewards of the South Community church.

Friendly call for airline pilots in New South Wales

One of the friendliest towns on Australian air routes is Deniliquin, in New South Wales. As soon as the regular aircraft approaches the airport, the local radio station gives a good-morning call to the aircrew. As it takes off again, the announcer plays any recording that may be asked for by the airhostess in a call back to the studio.

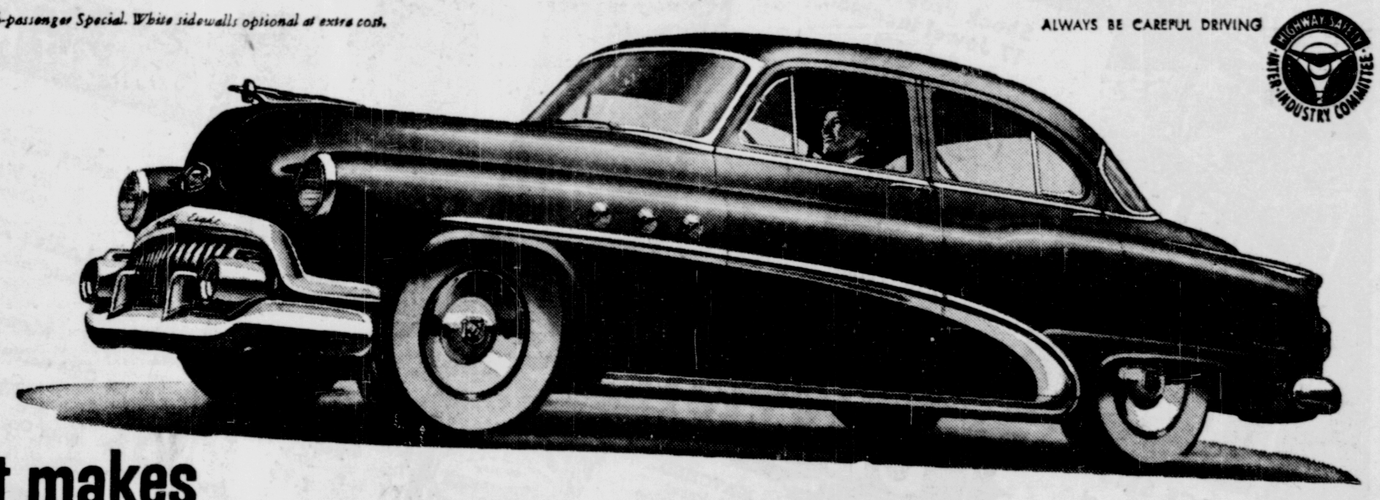
ALWAYS BE CAREFUL DRIVING — HIGHWAY SAFETY INTER-INDUSTRY COMMITTEE



It makes each drop of gas say uncle

ACCORDING to combustion experts, there's as much energy locked in a drop of gasoline as there is in a drop of nitroglycerine.

But the problem is to put that energy to work.

So Buick engineers aren't content just to mix that drop with air and touch it off. They've designed an engine that brings it catapulting into a cylinder head where it strikes a turbo-top piston—gets whipped into a churning, swirling ball of tight-packed energy.

Then it's fired. And when that happens, a drop of gasoline certainly lets loose power.

This isn't something that happens in a "car of the future."

It happens in a Buick Fireball 8 Engine today. It's a high-compression engine. It's a valve-in-head engine. But it's also a Fireball in performance as well as name.

And it puts extra power under the hood —and extra miles in the fuel back in the gas tank.

Now, power is great, but what goes with it?

Mister, that's something you ought to find out—and soon.

What goes with it is an automobile as sweet-handling, eager and willing as anything that ever made your pulse leap to a faster beat.

It's a car that seems to know what you want it to do—true and sure in its course on a straightaway—beautifully balanced on curves.

It's a car with Dynaflow Drive* to feed power with infinite smoothness—and a road-hugging levelness of ride that took a million in cold cash to perfect.

And it is, with all this, a very tidy bargain. Why not price it, drive it, know it for yourself? We'll be glad to arrange a demonstration.

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Wheel Crests standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series. Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Lady residents of Lntheran Home get 'set' for Mother's day

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Martin, left, give Mrs. Edna Hesser, 70, a radar permanent wave. Miss Dorothy Gilmer gives electric manicure to Mrs. Minna Kropp, 84, while Miss Frances Bryant adjusts dryer. Mrs. Tillie McDowell, 79, gets placed under dryer after getting a permanent from Miss Irene Bell, who is shown adjusting dryer, while Miss "B" (Mrs. Martin) looks on. Raymond Raines uses a hand dryer to cool Mrs. Alma Fedderke's, 66, head after a permanent.

The delighted Mrs. McDowell smiles as Miss Jean Heidorn, left, Miss Bell and Miss "B" put the finishing touches on her coiffure and makeup.

Martin's staff donate time to beautify Mom

If a stranger had walked into the Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged in Arlington Heights Monday he probably would have turned around and walked out, thinking he had made a mistake and entered a college girls' dormitory in the midst of their "primping and fussing" for a big event.

However, if he had lingered awhile, he would have discovered that all the lady residents of the Home were getting "decked out" for Mothers' day. Arrangements for this special gift, which included permanents, finger waves, manicures and facials, were made by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Martin, owners of Alfred Martin Hairdressing salon in Arlington Heights.

THE MARTINS and their entire staff were on hand to do the job. All the fussing and frills brought smiles to the faces of the 30 ladies who shared in the gift. One lady couldn't help remarking, "Don't I look pretty? Why no one would believe now that I'm going to be 79 years old this month!"

The men residents were just as tickled as the ladies, sitting along the sidelines watching the procedures and "ohing and ahing" as each lady walked away from the make-shift beauty parlor, looking like a new person.

"They sure look wonderful," said one old timer, "Why, they look at least 10 years younger. They better be careful or some of us will start 'proposing' all over again."

MR. MARTIN believes that old people should not be forgotten. He has an 83 year old mother in a Home on Long Island, N. Y., and "though I can't see her very often, I sure would like to think someone back there was doing something nice for my mother on Mothers' day, and the least I can do is something special for someone else's mother nearer at hand."

Rev. J. M. Kempf, director of the Home, thinks it was a wonderful idea the Martins had, and said it did no end of good for the morale of the residents.

"Mothers' day, 1952, will long be remembered here," said Rev. Kempf, "thanks to the Martins and their entire staff for making it such a memorable occasion."

Miss Geraldine Baumann is bride of Lester Rowlett

St. James Catholic church, Arlington Heights, was the scene of the marriage May 3 of Miss Geraldine Baumann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Baumann of S. State rd., Arlington Heights, and Lester Rowlett of Arlington Heights.

Rev. Richard Rosemeyer officiated at the 9:30 a. m. ceremony. The school choir was accompanied by Sister Amabilia, OSF, at the organ. Bouquets of lilacs and red roses decorated the altar.

The bride wore a white gown of rosepoint lace over satin fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice, long pointed sleeves, a full skirt and a short train. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a lace cap, and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Patricia Donovan of Glenview was maid of honor, and Miss Marian Goebbert of Arlington Heights was the bridesmaid. Both attendants wore lilac taffeta gowns fashioned with net overskirts and carried bouquets of red roses.

Alfred Goebbert of Arlington Heights was the best man. Charles Steffen of Chicago and John Bugner of Buffalo Grove, both cousins of the bride, were the ushers.

A breakfast and dinner were followed by a reception in the evening for 200 guests at the home of the bride's parents.

The couple are spending 10 days honeymooning in the Smoky Mountains and upon their return will make their home with the bride's parents.

Community Camera

Gowned in ivory skinner satin, Miss Marion Linnemann became the bride of Louis W. Niemeyer, son of Mrs. Emily Niemeyer of 315 W. Wing st., Arlington Heights.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Linneman of 709 N. Vail ave., Arlington Heights, carried a bouquet of off-white roses and ivy. Her princess style gown was fashioned with a traditional train, and her candlelight fingertip veil was held in place by a coronet headpiece.

Attendants for the 5 p. m. ceremony held May 3 at St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church were Mrs. Ruth Grotefeld of Chicago, matron of honor, and Miss Lorraine Schubert of Arlington Heights, bridesmaid.

Both attendants wore rose beige irridescent taffeta gowns and carried bouquets of talismen roses.

Harry Anderson of Chicago was best man. Jerome Grotefeld and Henry Tesch, both of Chicago, and Harold Miller of Arlington Heights were the ushers.

Rev. Luther V. Stephan officiated at the double ring ceremony. Bouquets of white stock and white carnations decorated the altar. Mrs. Wilfred Donlea, soloist, was accompanied by Ottomar Kolb at the organ.

A dinner and reception for 100 guests was held following the ceremony in the Lutheran school basement.

Following a three week honeymoon in California, the couple will make their home at 315 W. Wing st., Arlington Heights.

Ladies of the Elks

New officers were in charge of the recent meeting of the Des Plaines Ladies of the Elks. The annual spring luncheon will be held at Elmhurst Country club June 25 at 1 p. m. Tickets may be purchased at the club or from Hazel Bond, Frances Imig, Betty Bradley or Irene Knight, all of Des Plaines.

Members who wish to join the bowling league are asked to contact Mildred Hesse of Des Plaines

Favorites for Flavor

By LOIS SEILER

Powerful Good Cookies—that is the title as well as a fitting description of the recipe featured today.

Contributed by Mrs. Marvin Greener of 104 N. Plum Grove rd., Palatine ,this unusual cookie recipe contains no butter, eggs or sugar. It is a simple-to-make mixture of chocolate chips, chopped nutmeats, crushed graham crackers, Eagle Brand condensed milk and vanilla.

Baked in a 9 by 9 inch square pan, the cookies are cut into squares while warm and then removed from the tin. They are nice and chewy, and are similar to brownies in texture.

"Be sure not to overbake these cookies," says Mrs. Greener. She is a past-president of the Woman's club of Palatine and is also active in the WSCS of the First Methodist church. Try her recipe and see if it doesn't become a favorite with your family.

Powerful Good Cookies

1 pkg. chocolate chips
1 can Eagle Brand condensed milk
24 graham crackers, crushed
1 cup chopped nutmeats
1 tsp. vanilla

Mix all of the ingredients together and pour into greased 9 x9 inch pan. Bake 30 minutes in a moderate, 325 degree oven.

Cut into squares while warm and remove from pan.

WSCS annual meeting May 16

The annual meeting of the Rock River conference of the Women's Society of Christian Service will be held May 16 at the First Methodist church at Elgin from 9:45 a. m. to 3 p. m.

The theme is on Africa. Miss Marguerite Deyo, missionary to South Africa, will be the speaker. Another speaker is C. A. Meeker, editor of "Methodist Woman."

For luncheon reservations call Mrs. Ralph Burden at Palatine 1067 by May 13.

Tally Ho to be scene of alumnae luncheon

Alumnae of Kappa Kappa Gamma in the northwest suburban area will meet for luncheon at the Tally Ho Tea Room in Park Ridge May 13 at 1 p. m.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. Forrest Miller, Talcott 3-7580, or Mrs. Fred Reitze, Arlington Heights 2799-J.

Evelyn Fauts granted RN cap

Among the 19 girls who were graduated from Grant hospital school of nursing, Chicago, April 30, was Miss Evelyn Fouts of Route 1, Palatine.

Pictured above she receives her diploma from Ernst C. Schmidt, president of the board of directors of Grant hospital. Miss Fouts completed her three years of study, six months of the time having been spent at Cook County hospital where she received specialized training.

Home Bureau leaders study room improvement

"In a real home things are there to be used. Your possessions should serve you and be a joy to you. Select them with care and in keeping with your pocket-book."

This was the advice Mary McKee, 4-H club specialist, University of Illinois, gave to room improvement 4-H club leaders from Cook county yesterday. The training school opened at 10 a.m. and was designed to explain the room improvement work for this year and to help leaders outline plans for their clubs.

This year the emphasis is chiefly on dining table covers and the draped dressing table. There was special interest in the work on table linens. The leaders came prepared to work. They brought swatches of burlap, skeins of yarn, and tapestry needles.

WOMEN INTERESTED in developing more skill in flower arranging brought a suitable container and garden flowers for one arrangement. The leaders served as their own judges and arrangements scoring high were reserved for discussion by the entire group.

At the afternoon session Miss McKee arranged a display of table linens, china and glass. Each item was discussed in terms of proportion, design, color, texture, and use of suitability.

Project plans for the exhibit at the State Fair in Springfield were discussed and requirements for entry outlined.

Lois Dreyer gets nurse's diploma

Bak Studio

Miss Lois Dreyer, daughter of Mrs. Edna Dreyer of Palatine, was graduated March 1 from Sherman hospital school of nursing at Elgin. The exercises were held at the First Baptist church in Elgin.

Miss Emily Cardew, president of the Illinois League of Nursing Education, was guest speaker.

Class president during her senior year, Miss Dreyer is now employed at Sherman hospital.

Arlington Heights Girl Scout council will meet May 14 at 8 p. m. at the field house. All regular adult scout workers should be present, because the group will vote on participating in area development at this time.

Miss Joan Hitchcock and Philip C. Mahew are wed

In a candlelight ceremony May 3 Miss Joan Hitchcock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archer W. Hitchcock of 227 Bristol lane, Arlington Heights, became the bride of Philip C. Mayhew, son of Dr. and Mrs. Anton Barowski of Skokie.

St. Luke's Episcopal church, Evanston, was the scene of the 7 p. m. ceremony. Rev. Thomas Chaffee of St. John's Episcopal church, Mount Prospect, officiated. Thomas Matthews was the organist.

The bride wore a ballerina length gown of white embroidered net over blue satin. Her fingertip length veil was held in place by a pearl tiara. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley with a white orchid center.

Mrs. George D. Hitchcock of Arlington Heights was the matron of honor. She wore a pink taffeta gown fashioned with a white organdy redingote and carried a bouquet of spring flowers.

Mrs. Jack S. Pettersen and Miss Lois Olson, both of Arlington Heights, were the bridesmaids. Mrs. Pettersen wore a lavender gown of taffeta and lace, and Miss Olson wore a lime green taffeta and lace gown.

Miss Linda Hitchcock was the flower girl. She wore a lime green ruffled organdy dress.

George D. Hitchcock of Arlington Heights, brother of the bride, was best man. Richard Jenkins and Wade Nickadmus, both of Chicago, were the ushers.

A reception for 100 guests was held at the Orrington hotel in Evanston.

Following a honeymoon in Kentucky and Tennessee the couple will make their home at 7527 N. Seeley, Chicago.

Announce engagements

Virginia Ruth Biermann

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Biermann of Mt. Prospect announce the engagement of their daughter, Virginia Ruth, to Ray Robert Wilke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond O. Wilke of Arlington Heights.

Marjorie Beckman

Mr. and Mrs. William Beckman of 43 W. Robertson st., Palatine, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Marjorie, to Chief Petty Officer Raymond G. Weitzel, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Weitzel of Alta Vista, Iowa.

Chief Petty Officer Weitzel, who is with the United States Navy, is now stationed in Memphis, Tenn.

Sewing Susies 4-H club

Sewing Susies 4-H club of Arlington Heights met for their first sewing meeting April 28. Mrs. Fabian is the leader of the group with Mrs. Ahmer as assistant leader and Judy Ahmer as junior leader.

The following officers were elected: Doris Rudolph, president; Mary Ann Fabian, vice-president; Myra Clausing, secretary-treasurer; Anita Beyer, reporter; Irene Aurnhammer, recreation chairman; Audrey Gronert, song leader, and Judy Ahmer, program chairman.

The next meeting will be held May 5.

Mrs R.R. Ismay to address women

"Retrospect and Dedication" has been chosen by Mrs. R. Robert Ismay as the title of her talk before the Woman's Society of the Arlington Heights Methodist church Tuesday afternoon in the church parlors.

It is a fitting theme for the 1 p. m. potluck lunch meeting which will also mark the retirement of Mrs. Maynard W. Whitelaw, president of the organization, and her board of officers.

Brief summaries of the year's accomplishment of service for others will be presented by circle chairmen, Mrs. William D. Jones, Mrs. George Vitoux, Mrs. M. W. Prellberg, Mrs. I. Paul Doane and Mrs. R. J. Barbour.

In a spirit of dedication, the group will look forward to the new church year when new officers will be elected and installed.

Baptized recently

Judith Lynn Goeddeke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Goeddeke of 123 S. State rd., Arlington Heights, was baptized April 27 at Faith Lutheran church, Arlington Heights. Rev. Edgar H. Behrens officiated.

Her sponsors were Mrs. Margaret Held of Des Plaines, Mrs. Lorraine Kastning of Franklin Park and Harold Goeddeke of Roselle.

A buffet dinner was served at the Goeddeke home for the baby's grandparents and sponsors.

Bowling league banquet

The Tuesday Night Ladies' Bowling league of Arlington Heights held their annual banquet Tuesday at Radio Club Farm on Rand rd., Palatine.

The comedy skit, "If Men Played Cards As Women Do," was presented by members of the Arlington Heights Village Theatre. Members also entertained themselves playing the piano and singing.

Gieseke's Department Store won the trophy.

Corrine Halicki

Announcing the engagement of their daughter, Corrinne, to Robert Bartlett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Bartlett of Prospect Heights, are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Halicki, also of Prospect Heights.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Peter Berg plans European tour

Peter L. Berg of 615 E. Davis st., Arlington Heights, and his 10-year old granddaughter, Betty Berg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Berg of the same address, will leave here May 24 to fly to New York enroute to Europe.

They will leave New York May 27 on the Oslo Fjord for Oslo, Norway, where they will visit relatives. Mr. Berg visited Europe in 1948.

They will return to the United States September 1 after visiting Copenhagen, Denmark, and Paris, where Mr. Berg plans to see his nephew.

To hold card party at field house

Posters informing local residents of the card party sponsored by the Evening guild of St. John's Episcopal church, Mount Prospect, at the Arlington Hts. field house at 8 p. m. May 12 are to be seen in Prospect Heights, Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights.

The committee received expert aid from Bernard Wood, a commercial artist, who designed the layout. The posters were executed by Mrs. J. Herbert Haynsworth, Mrs. Edward J. Hennessy, Mrs. Robert A. Waters and Mrs. Bernard Wood.

Mrs. R. C. DeZur, chairman of the ways and means committee, has appointed Mrs. Robert R. Stark and Mrs. Joseph Vavra, tables; Mrs. Walter Belcher, cards, and Miss Betty Miles, awards.

Refreshments, consisting of homemade cakes and coffee, will be served under the direction of Mrs. Robert Paddock, chairman of the guild's social committee.

There will be tables for both bridge and canasta. Those who desire further information or who want to make reservations should call Mrs. DeZur at Arlington Heights 1916-R or Mrs. Kenneth W. Olsen at Mount Prospect 2518-R.

Presenting the Younger Generation

Youngest of three

Howard Winkelhake, the blond and blue-eyed boy pictured first, is the youngest of three boys in the Henry Winkelhake family of 513 S. Evergreen, Arlington Hts. He is 4½ years old and is looking forward with eagerness to the opening of kindergarten next fall. Riding his bicycle and watching television occupy the majority of his playtime.

Howard's brothers are Vern, who will graduate from Arlington Heights high school this June, and Ralph, who is 10 years old and a fourth grader at the Lutheran school.

Mrs. Caroline Rascher, the boys' maternal grandmother, resides with the family. Mrs. Henry Winkelhake, paternal grandmother, lives in Schaumburg.

Talent team

The next two bright smiles belong to Karen Lynn and Ray Lohr Jr., children of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lohr of 305 S. Vail, Arlington Heights.

Both the children have blond hair and blue eyes. Karen is 10 years old, and Ray is 5. Working with their hands is a talent of this pair. "They love any kind of hand-work or craft, and especially like to paint," said Mrs. Lohr. No doubt Karen and Ray have inherited some of their mother's talent as she was a former art teacher.

Individually Karen enjoys sewing and tending her own plot of garden, while Ray likes to work with tools.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lohr and Mrs. Mae Kermes of Cicero.

Bonnie braids

Wearing braids and this pretty smile is Ann Marino, 6 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Marino of 533 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights.

Ann has brown hair, brown eyes and is in the kindergarten at South school. She is the baby of the family having a brother, Jacob Jr., 12, and a sister, Rose, 8. Jacob is in the seventh grade at St. James school, and Rose is in the third grade.

"Ann is a terror," laughed her mother. When not in mischief, she is busy with her dolls or roller skating.

Music department to give Mother's day concert

The Mother's day concert to be given Sunday in the new Arlington Heights high school gym at 3:30 p.m. will serve a two-fold purpose: one, to entertain mothers with an afternoon of music by the high school music departments, and two, to dedicate the new Baldwin concert grand piano, purchased through the efforts of the students.

Gerschwin's "Rhapsody in Blue," played by Martha Zepp, piano soloist, accompanied by the concert band, will be the first piece played on the concert grand piano.

The Advanced Girls' and Triple Trio choruses will blend their voices for the singing of "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings," "I Heard You Go By," and "So's I Can Write My Name." Martin Dahlberg and June Leick are the respective directors of these two groups.

SEVERAL selections will be played by the orchestra, under the direction of Fredrick Schmoyer. The Freshmen girls' chorus, directed by Miss Leick, will sing three selections, and all three choruses will join in the singing of "Wonderful One."

The concert band, directed by Mr. Schmoyer, will also play several numbers and the grand finale will be done by the choir, also directed by Miss Leick, which will sing four numbers, including songs from "Carousel."

Piano accompanists for the choral selections will be Julia Meyer, Hazel Mueller and Jane Ann Torreyson.

Tickets are 50 cents and may be purchased at the door.

Winnetka Garden club to give spring show

The Spring Garden Walk will be presented by the Winnetka Garden club May 24 from 11 a. m. to 6 p. m.

This year's theme is "Bud to Full Bloom," a walk through the years, portraying six important occasions in the life of a woman.

Advance tickets at $2 may be purchased from Mrs. George Parker, 271 Poplar st., Winnetka, phone Winnetka 6-0836, or they may be obtained the day of the walk. Tickets will be available at all houses shown, as well as at the information booth on Elm st., Winnetka, at the Chicago and North Western railroad station.

Hold spring luncheon at Itasca May 21

The annual spring luncheon of the Mothers' club of St. James Catholic school, Arlington Heights, will be held May 21 at 1 p. m. at Itasca Country club. Officers for the coming year will also be installed at this time.

Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. David Shaughnessy at Arlington Heights 2755-J.

Lutheran Hour to stress importance of mothers

Mothers' day will be recognized by the Lutheran Hour Sunday when Rev. Prof. Armin C. Oldsen delivers a special message entitled, "Blessed by a Christian Mother," on the Mutual network and affiliated stations.

Paying tribute to the position which mothers occupy in molding people, the Lutheran Hour speaker will say that "if there is any class of people in the world who can make the next generation more pure, more kind and considerate, more stable and more mature—it's mothers."

The influence which mothers have exerted on the lives of many prominent individuals will be reviewed by the Lutheran Hour speaker.

The program, which will originate from the campus studios of Concordia Seminary in St. Louis, will feature the music of the Seminary Lutheran Hour chorus, under the direction of Walter Keller.

Toastmaster club to hold charter night

The Arlington Heights Toastmasters club will hold its charter night banquet Wednesday at the Presbyterian church, at 7 p. m.

Upon receiving their charter this group will become one of the many units of Toastmasters International spread throughout the United States and other parts of the English-speaking world. This is the twentieth anniversary of this non-profit corporation which aims to train in more effective public speaking and leadership in meetings.

The small group that attended the initial meeting in February has grown to 25 members today.

THE PROGRAM will consist of entertainment by the Four Hoarsemen quartet, guest speakers, charter presentation and a demonstration of the club's activities.

Up and Doing 4-H club

The Up and Doing 4-H club of Elk Grove met after school at the home of Arlene Moellenkamp April 29. The dates were set for several tours and the 4-H banquet was discussed.

Nancy Honemann gave a demonstration on making a noodle dish for her salad project. Helen Grimm demonstrated using a hem maker, and Arlene Moellenkamp showed members how to put a hem maker together.

Patty Busse and Helen Grimm were on the minor committee. Judy Moehling and Helen Grimm were on the recreation committee. Refreshments were served by Marilyn Hagenow, Nancy Honemann, Arlene Moellenkamp and Laurnell Anderson.

The 4-H club banquet will be held May 9 in the basement of the Elk Grove Lutheran school. The club will visit Dunteman's Dairy May 17 and has already visited Busse's greenhouse.

The next meeting will be held May 13 at the home of Laurnell Anderson.

Glass blowers

Glassblowers have plied their trade for 6,000 years at least, according to pictographs and artifacts from ancient Egyptian tombs. Transparent glass, however, seems to have been known for less than half that time.

Proposed new South school for Arlington Heights. It will be located just south of the present combination South and Junior high school, facing Park st. The seven room building will house kindergarten through fifth grade students.

Education helps in operation of furnaces, too

Education of those responsible for the operation of furnaces and boilers is said to be the most important phase of a smoke abatement program.

Proposed Arlington Ridge public school for Arlington Heights. The school is to be built a few blocks west of the high school on Fernandez ave., and will serve kindergarten through fifth grade students.

Bloomingdale Family First To Get New Social Security Benefits

When Edgar L. Fernald, Bloomingdale, dropped dead in his candy business on April 1, he was probably the first self-employed person in the country to die insured under the Amended Social Security law. As a partner of a candy business, his income from self-employment came under social security January 1, 1951.

IN ORDER FOR him to have been insured entirely under the new law, he needed six quarters of coverage since January 1, 1951. He had the full four quarters in 1951 at the maximum taxable amount of $3600 and had over $400 in 1952. The fact that he went to work April 1, the first day of the sixth quarter, was sufficient to guarantee him insurance under the amended law.

Although his death was a tragic blow to his widow, Leone, and his three children, Ronald, John, and James, they will have some replacement of the income lost because of his death. There will be approximately $26,000 payable to this family as survivors insurance under the Amended Social Security law, it is estimated.

The widow will get a lumpsum payment and also monthly payments until the youngest child, Ronald, is 18 years old. Then her monthly payments will stop but if she doesn't re-marry they will begin again at age 65. All three children will have monthly payments made until each is 18.

MISS GLADYS WENDEL of the Oak Park Social Security office pointed out that all self-employed persons who have filed their Schedule C for 1951 and who are still self-employed have protected their survivors as fully as did Edgar Fernald. Those who are delinquent should contact their local collector of internal revenue.

Barrington Moose install new officers

Barrington Moose Lodge 1616 held installation of officers April 28 in the social hall of Barrington high school.

Earl W. Harton of Mooseheart was installing officer and Fred Hartung of Crystal Lake Lodge 1188 was installing sergeant at arms. The women of the Lodge 702, Crystal Lake, under the supervision of Mrs. Boyle escorted the new officers to their seats.

Those elected were: Fred Winn, governor; Hyram Hansen, junior governor; Lawrence Tender, prelate; Al Hasseman, trustee, and Jack Harris, treasurer. The appointed officers were: Art Holfer, sergeant at arms; Bob Hanes, inner guard, and LaVerne Raebey, outer guard.

Elmer Mers, retiring governor and now past governor, received a wrist watch and past governor's lapel button for his work. Frank Roth, retiring past governor, received a past governor's lapel button.

Guests of honor were Robert Harebel, national chairman of civic affairs and honorary member of Barrington Lodge, who gave a short talk; William Dan, third district vice-president from Woodstock Lodge; Matt Hecker, governor of Crystal Lake Lodge and Herman Eiblert, past governor of Crystal Lake Lodge 1188.

The Lodge will meet May 12 at the Legion hall at 8 p .m.

Guest panelist for business problems

Jackson L. Boughner of 710 E. Kenilworth, Palatine, will be one of three guest panelists invited to participate in a business problems school luncheon of the Chicago association of commerce and industry to be held Friday, May 9, in the Grand ballroom of the LaSalle hotel.

"How management can minimize 1952 taxes" will be the topic for discussion at this first of a series of three meetings to be held on the subject of taxes.

Co-sponors of the sessions are the Chicago association of commerce and industry and the Illinois society of certified public accountants.

A certified public accountant Mr. Hoffman is partner in the accounting firm of Price Waterhouse & Co.

Bats in a building

According to zoologists, bats do not make nests. You can get rid of the bats in buildings by blocking all entrances and exits through which they may get in or out of the building. The nests may have been made by swifts or swallows, or they may be mud nests, made by some large insects.

Girl scout festival

The Girl Scout spring festival, get-together of seven associated Girl Scout councils, will be held May 18, at 2:30 p.m. at Camp Pine, near Des Plaines. All families of Girl Scouts, as well as interested friends, are urged to drive out to Camp Pine to become acquainted with the Girl Scout council camp.

Camp Pine may be reached by driving to Euclid-Lake ave., a road which runs east and west about two miles north of Des Plaines. The trail to Camp Pine meets Euclid-Lake ave. at the Des Plaines River bridge, which is about ¼ mile east of route 45. The trail runs south along the east bank of the river about ½ mile.

Communities banded together to use this camp are Western Springs, Skokie, Park Ridge, Mount Prospect, Kenilworth, LaGrange and Arlington Heights. The director from Mount Prospect is Mrs. F. K. Larsen.

NOW! your home can be Beautiful

Troubled By Fireplace Windows?

Those high, small windows so often found on either side of the fireplace . . . especially in older-type homes . . . need not present an insurmountable decorating hurdle. Most common mistake made is to accentuate their smallness by overdressing them; or by failing to relate them to the other window treatments in the room.

Make Them Inconspicuous . . .

. . . by blending them into the wall. Choose a curtain or drapery treatment that will make them an attractive background for fireside furniture group. If you can spare the light, wall-high draperies may be used to conceal them effectively—at the same time dramatize fireplace wall. Best rule is: keep them simple.

We have many more decorating ideas that will help you make your home livable and attractive . . . and we're eager to tell you about them. Do come in soon, won't you?

Nothing adds more comfort to precious leisure hours than roomy fireside chairs. Our selection includes several styles . . . scaled to different room sizes. All the new, wanted decorator colors. Come in and choose yours while stocks are complete.

Lamps and lamp tables are the high-lights of the living room. Our new groups include styles for both Modern and Traditional rooms.

We are happy to have you come in and talk over your home planning needs with us. We have a wide assortment of lovely furnishings for every room in your home. We'll be pleased to show them to you at any time. Do come in soon.

Published Weekly For Your Entertainment

O, the High Cost of L . . .

For the last couple of years, or since my four sons, Les, 10, Richard, 8, Rory, 5, and Terry, 3, have caused my monthly milk bill to teeter between $40-$50 my handsome helpmate and I have entertained a city-bred vision of owning a food and milk-producing comfortable farm.

This pipe dream appears about the first of the month after a heavy session with the bills. Our mirage, probably aspirin-induced, usually forms in a roseate-hued cloud: a pastoral scene of infinite peace and beauty, stretching into the distance over green fields of alfalfa and corn. A contented lowing emanates from several inexpensive gallons of milk-on-the-hoof in the foreground. We envision our farm with a deep freeze you can walk into; and ready to walk into it are a couple of plump beef steers, with several more grazing nearby. Meaty, four-footed fifty dollar bills readying themselves to be eventually stuffed into papa's wallet, papa thus getting his steak for free. A naive delusion, but harmless enough — this groggy writer's opiate for today's cost of living.

Our rural dreamland is so appealing we've never priced farms for fear we might be able to afford one. I need not have worried; the bubble exploded with a loud bang right before my appalled eyes. In a Sunday paper, brazenly staring me in the face, was a picture of a Hereford bull named M. W. Larry Domino 107, now of Wichita Falls, Texas. This pure bred, the caption said, was sold at the Honey Creek dispersal sale at Grove, Oklahoma, for $160,000. Good Gravy!! But wait . . . who can eat gravy at that price? Sober reflection indicates that Larry will be used to sire blue-blooded progeny and I imagine his buyer's thought is — they better be numerous. Actually, you couldn't blame Larry Domino 107 if he snooted all cows who didn't give pure whipping cream and who could not produce under Larry's appraising gaze, a pedigree equally distinguished.

Spinning steadily in his grave must be the founder of the famed Chisholm Tail, himself a cattle raiser of no mean distinction, who drove thousands of beef steers from Texas to the Kansas Railroads for less than a quarter of $160,000. How times change and in just a few short decades, too. Gosh, $160,000!! One hun-dred six-ty thou-sand dol-lars! Good grav- . . . ooops!

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

That the man of God's creating is not a hopeless sinner nor a helpless invalid, but forever perfect, spiritual and unfallen, will be explained in the Lesson-Sermon entitled ADAM AND FALLEN MAN which will be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, May 11.

The Golden Text is from I Corinthians (15: 22) "As in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive."

Lesson-Sermon passages from the Bible (King James Version) include the following:

"Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness. Therefore let us not sleep as do others; but let us watch and be sober . . . For God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ" (Thess. 5: 5, 6, 9).

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"In divine Science, man is the true image of God. The divine nature was best expressed in Christ Jesus, who threw upon mortals the truer reflection of God and lifted their lives higher than their poor thought-models would allow,—thoughts which presented man as fallen, sick, sinning, and dying . . . When we wake to the truth of being, all disease, pain, weakness, weariness, sorrow, sin, death, will be unknown, and the mortal dream will forever cease" (pp. 259, 218).

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

WILLIAM McGILL

Occasionally, when we have been preparing to go away for a time, or have returned from being away, friends or acquaintances who have about the same number of children that we have wonder how we are able to travel with our children. There seem to be a number of families with three or four children who have never loaded the whole group into the car and taken off for a week or two.

I will admit that it isn't easy. We haven't always enjoyed every minute of it. And if you do not have relatives or close friends who are scattered about the countryside, it is rather expensive. If you do have relatives about the country, it is almost always necessary to apply more restraint to your children than is usual at home.

BUT FOR the good health of family life there are few more binding experiences than traveling. A car is close quarters; you have to think of things which enable you to enjoy each other along the way. At home, there are always other people. Each of the children have their friends who either play at our house, or at whose homes our children play. Father and mother have their individual and collective meetings and acquaintances. We all have a chance at privacy, in our own parts of the house, and we all have our chances to leave the house for other places and people.

But in the car, we have each other—and we had better enjoy it. We're a long way from home most of the time, and we shall not be back for a while.

This is a time of the year when we consider the responsibilities and opportunities of family life, highlighting that consideration by paying special honor to mother. One of the great rewards of family living is shared experience. Shared experience does not just happen; it takes planning and effort.

EVERY TIME we go away, we spend half our time remembering whether we went this way before, remembering things that happened here or there. Perhaps our children will help us to regale our grandchildren with tales of the way we "old-fashioned folk" got around the country in an automobile — of all things! ("Wasn't it rugged travel, Grandpop?" "It certainly was.")

It has been rewarding travel, however. And we think it is a part of the heritage of every child. For a while, even if only on the road, we are again a family and only a family. We are back to the ancient situation of the nomad, the pioneer; and we have the chances to build our memories and our experience of each other and the things we have done together.

Leader of Men

Oh Happiest they of the Human Race to whom our God has given Grace to hear, to fear and to read and pray; to lift the latch and force the way. But better had they never been born who shall read to doubt or shall read to scorn.

THE GOLDEN RULE

Only what God puts into the hearts and minds and souls of men may last forever. By struggle men shall achieve, not by gift. That is, and has been, and shall be God's law. The child that is to be richer than Rockefeller and an inventor greater than Edison, and a leader of men more powerful than what the world has even known.

THE SERVANT

I simply claim the intuition of discerning all things in the physical, mental and spiritual life, and all things in the material world, including perpetual motion.

And so the finger of God moves on, nor all you pity, nor wit, nor all your tears shall wash out one word of it.

DEATH

Look into a dead man's eyes and what do you see — nothing but a vacant stare therein where the soul has left the body to be judged by God what you have been on this earth.

PRAYER AND OATH

Help me, O God, I pray, that in thy wisdom thou has given me a man task; help me that I may not prove unworthy before God and my fellow men.

THE MIRACLE

The miracle is one who has brought his soul in touch with God the Father, therefore a mind higher and greater than anyone else, or what anyone has ever thought of; therefore, the people shout a miracle, and so God is here.

Religion of today, instead of worshipping God, they now worship a series of forms, traditions, idols and images, dollars and cents.

God and man may meet on the street, in the bush or on the sea — are you prepared to meet him? Nature performs miracles for farmers and let him read secrets and a secret lies therein.

New facilities increase mining of nickel ore

International Nickel's new shaft and new concentrator, which were recently put into operation at its Creighton Mine in Northern Ontario, will add 10,000 tons of underground ore a day to the company's milling capacity. These additional ores will serve as a replacement of open pit ores and will enable the company to continue its refined nickel production at the present rate of about 250,000,000 pounds per year.

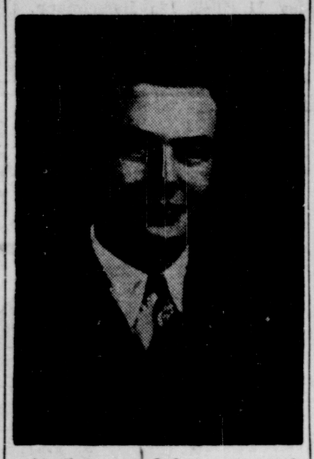
Carlson made president of Iowa State club



At the annual banquet meeting of the Iowa State club of Chicago, attended by more than 150 alumni from the Chcago area, Warren W. Carlson of Palatine was elected to serve as president of the club for the coming year.

Dr. Charles E. Friley, president of Iowa state college, was the principle speaker and gave an interesting report on the operations and activities of the college, both past and present, plus an insight of the plans for the future.

Another highlight of the evening was the awarding of the Iowa State club of Chicago annual $1,400 scholarship (non-athletic.) This year for the first time the scholarship was won by a young lady from Evanston high school.

Carlson is a graduate of Arlington Heights high school. Since 1946 he has been employed by Illinois Bell Telephone company and at present is a commercial manager in the Chicago area.

Lifting gasses

Both hydrogen and helium are lighter than air, and so can be used to fill balloons to lift objects. Helium is widely used nowadays because it will not burn and is therefore much safer, even though its lifting power is not quite as great. To lift a weight of one pound requires about 13 cubic feet of hydrogen or about 14 cubic feet of helium, at normal atmospheric pressure.

'Feds' examine research program at Univ. of Illinois

The $2 million research program of the University of Illinois college of agriculture will get a thorough review in the next two weeks during the annual inspection by a federal examiner.

Dr. L. B. Howard, associate director of the experiment station, says that the examiner, Dr. David V. Lumsden, will hear brief reports on the progress of about 325 research studies carried on by some 250 Illinois staff members. The job will take two weeks — April 15 to 30. These experiments in all phases of agriculture and home economics are aimed at improving farming methods and rural living in Illinois.

ALL LAND-GRANT colleges receive federal funds to carry on various tests on farm and home economics problems in their state. Each college reports its work annually to a federal examiner.

On the value of University of Illinois research, a recent national magazine article said: "State statisticians estimate the cash returns to the nation ... at more than $400 million a year ... Industrialists and farmers of Illinois alone are making more money each year than the state has spent on the school since its founding in 1868."

In agricultural research, Saline wheat and two new corn hybrids just released this spring are examples of improved crop varieties developed by Illinois plant breeders.

STUDIES SHOWING that protein levels in swine rations can be lowered were reported at Swine Growers' Day.

Tests on pipeline milking systems and simplified calf starter rations are among the practical dairy studies under way.

Soil management, farm records, food processing, home furnishings and farm machinery are a few other subjects being studied.

Wins first honors in state junior academy science contest

Barbara Martin, senior at Arlington Heights township high school, won first honors in state competition at the Illinois Junior Academy of Science meeting held at Eastern Illinois state college at Charleston May 2 and 3.

In addition, Barbara's project won a special outstanding award. Almost 400 science students from high schools all over the state competed for the awards.

Barbara submitted as her entry her herbarium of 225 plants, herbs and wild flowers. Each plant is mounted on individual cardboards. An index accompanies the display and lists both the common and scientific name. Barbara plans to enter Iowa State next year and to major in science preparatory to a career as a ranger naturalist.

The exhibit of Joe Horcher nd Charlene Rehfeldt, sophomore and freshman students, on heridity in mice won second honors in the state competition. The project consists of five families of mice with mutations of tailless mice, hairless mice, short tailed mice, albino mice, and one spotted mouse.

The students were accompanied to the meeting by their instructors, Nelson L. Lowry and Robert Kemman, who will present their awards to them at a high school assembly in the near future.

Erica Jung and Ronald Taggart, Westinghous winners, attended the convention and were presented at both the junior and senior academy banquets. Marshall Sherrill, sophomore, also attended the meeting and led one of the discussion groups on aeronautics.

Taxes higher than food

American taxpayers in 1951 paid some 18 billion dollars more in taxes for federal, state and local governments than they spent for food, it was disclosed by George E. Mahin, executive secretary of the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois.

"The Federal tax bill alone ($67.7 billion) was slightly greater than all consumer expenditures for food ($67.3 billion)," Mahin stated. "With state and local taxes in 1951 estimated between 18 and 19 billion dollars, the American taxpayers now are paying more for government than they paid for food, rent and tobacco in 1950. During 1952, federal taxes will take an even bigger slice of our incomes."

SIXTY-FIVE WOMEN TURN OUT FOR INITIAL GOLF CLASS

There is nothing like warm weather to bring fine marks in track. A comparison of records at the Palatine and DeKalb relays a week apart shows the progress the same teams have made with a week of summer weather. In fact the past two weeks have been the finest weather for spring sports activities we can remember for this area, normally noted for its chilly, windy, and rainy spring weather.

Even competition expected in district golf tourney

This week end state competition on the district level starts in track, baseball and golf. Friday the golfers are out of school all day as they tee off at Mount Prospect country club in competition including Arlington Heights, Niles, Evanston, Highland Park, Waukegan, New Trier, Northbrook, Elgin, Palatine, and the host school, Maine township. It is one of the toughest districts in the state which last year produced the state champ New Trier. This year it looks like a very evenly matched district with Highland Park, Waukegan, Niles, and Arlington Heights possibilities.

Pirates and Cards play in baseball district at Winnetka

Friday afternoon the New Trier district baseball tournament gets underway with two games starting at 4 p.m. Palatine meets Maine on one diamond with the winner slated to oppose Arlington Heights Saturday. On another diamond Evanston meets New Trier with the winner slated to meet Highland Park in the second round. The winner of the tournament will clash with the winner at Oak Park to gain the sectional at Woodstock the following week.

Toughest track district in the state at Evanston

Saturday in all day competition the North Shore suburban league track teams, Waukegan, New Trier, Highland Park, and Evanston will compete in the Evanston district along with Niles, Maine, Lake Forest, Libertyville, Arlington Heights, Palatine, Wauconda, and Barrington in one of the state's strongest districts.

There are new rules for qualifying for the state meet this year. In addition to boys who finish first or second in their event others may go to the state who meet certain performance standards which are as follows: 100 yard dash, :10.3; 220 yard dash, :23.0; 440 yard run, :53.0; 880 yard run, 2:04; mile run, 4:40; 880 yard relay, 1:33; high hurdles, :15.5; low hurdles, :21.5; shot, 48'; discus, 140'; pole vault, 11'8"; high jump, 5'10"; broad jump, 21'.

Karrigan allows three hits in three games

The king is dethroned. It may be a temporary situation with Barrington in second place and Bensenville and Ela on top in the baseball standings, but we doubt it. Bensenville has the pitching and that is the answer in prep baseball. Ela-Vernon may hand Barrington defeat number two Friday and another setback would be curtains for the Bronchos' pennant chances in a short six game schedule.

Jim Karrigan of the Bisons has a unique record in three games to date. He has hurled 20 innings, struck out 50, allowed a total of three hits, and no earned runs. The Bison ace is well on the way to setting a flock of hurling records for the conference. Along with his pitching the Bisons have been doing some timely hitting. It looks like Bensenville is back on the championship trail.

Redwings to open in new loop May 18

Arlington Red Wings will open another year of play before fans of this area when they take the field a week from Sunday, May 18, at Recreation park in Arlington Heights against the Evanston Flashes.

Of interest to fans is the announcement by manager Elmer Kirchhoff that the Red Wings are now members of the Midwest league. This loop is well organized and will provide better competition for those sunny Sunday afternoons this summer.

THERE WAS DOUBT as to whether the Red Wings woud be able to operate this year, but donations by many individuals, businessmen and organizations have helped the squad purchase equipment. The past two seasons have not been enough to cover the "pass the hat" collections expenses.

Just whether the Red Wings can outdraw TV this year to assure a team for next season remains to be seen, but more highly organized competition should help.

THE RED WINGS have been working out the past three weeks with just over 20 men trying for positions. Starting lineup will be announced next week.

Heights frosh-soph netmen in league meet Saturday

Official entries for Arlington Heights in the West Suburban conference frosh-soph tennis meet Saturday at Riverside-Brookfield were announced Monday of this week by Coach Ray DeGreeff.

Number one singles will be Marshall Sherrill. Other singles entered are Doug Morrissey and Bern Schnyder.

Two doubles teams include Don Hutchinson and Tom Livingston as number one, and Eddie Schroeder and Don Bedingfield number two combination.

To date the only victory garnered by the yearlings was a 3-2 affair against Niles.

Nelsen low man in first night of Arlington golf

Arlington Heights twilight golf league got off to a cold start Friday due mainly to the weather which was not as pleasant as it might have been. Some of the boys forgot about the cold winds and turned in scores indicating mid-season form, however.

Star of the evening was Clarence Nelsen of Black's Memorial with a 38. This score netted him 2½ points, with five more earned by others on that team. The opposing team, Dunteman's Dairy, made 4½ points, two of which were earned by alternate Bob McFadin.

TEAM SCORING most points (11) for the evening was Lohr's Pharmacy, with leading scorer Marv Kamps notching a 39; good for three points. Tody's Lounge scored only one point, that one by alternate James Jackson.

Ernie Simmons also picked up three points for Arlington Bowling with a gross 40. Borgardt's Sinclair gained only two of 12 possible points against the Bowling Lanes.

Another hot-shot of the evening was Jim Campbell who earned three points for Lingren's Men's Wear, which split with Mar Johnson's in points scored, 6-6. Star for the latter was Art Martens with two scores.

FRANK FELKER was strongest for Schiller Carpet, earning three points of the 6½ his team scored against Lauterburg and Oehler boys. Bill Poole made two for the latter aggregation.

Leader for Arlington Bank team was Carl Engel with a 46-9-37, good for three of the eight points scored by his team. Tony Felker and John Eiler made two each for their team, Jahn's Service.

There will be a meeting Friday after play. It is important everyone attend.

Standings:

Lohr's Pharmacy	11
Arlington Bowling Lanes	10
Arlington National Bank	8
Black's Memorial	7½
Schiller Carpet	6½
Mar Johnson's	6
Lingren's Men's Wear	6
Lauterburg and Oehler	5½
Dunteman's Dairy	4½

Arlington enters 14 in district cinder meet at Evanston

Coach Russ Attis will take fourteen boys to the district track meet at Evanston Saturday from Arlington Heights. Remaining meets after the district include Niles Tuesday and the conference meet May 21 at Riverside-Brookfield. Whether or not any boys become eligible to compete in the state finals May 16-17 at Urbana remains to be seen.

Boys and events entered:
Albright—440, mile relay.
Barkhausen—100, 220, 880 relay.
Barr—440, mile relay.
Borgardt—both hurdles.
Ellis—mile relay.
Keithley—880 relay.
Kent—both hurdles.
Klink—880 and mile relays.
Ragland—880 and mile relays.
Roberts—100, 220, 880 relay.
M. Theis—relay.
T. Theis—880 relay and low hurdles.
Dallstream—mile.
Winterbauer—weights.

Four sprinters, all mainstays for Arlington Heights track squad this season, are pictured above with three of them slated to be back next season. Top row are juniors Jim Roberts and Norm Laubenheimer. Bottom are senior Louis Barkhausen and junior George Keithley. Roberts and Barkhausen have been scoring in every meet to date.

Karrigan hits and pitches Bisons to league lead

Bensenville stepped out in front in the Northwest conference baseball standings Tuesday with a spotless record as Grant walloped Barrington, 7-1. While the Bronchos were being badly upset at Grant Bensenville was really shellacking Northbrook by a 17-1 count in six innings. Jim Karrigan missed making it two no hitters in a row when Art Landwehr got a clean hit over second in the final inning.

Karrigan struck out 16, walked four, and himself had a big day at bat with two long drives out of the park for home runs. Bensenville scored five in the second to send Schmidt to the showers and then pounded his successors for 12 runs in the third frame. Northbrook's one run was made on Bensenville's two misplays.

Palatine lost their second in a row Tuesday at Lake Zurich as Ela-Vernon took their third straight win, 4-2. Both teams got eight hits, but Ela got theirs with men on bases. Don Zoellick got three hits in four trips for Palatine.

Cold weather fails to dampen enthusiasm

Sixty-five women golfers, half of those registered as requested, showed up Tuesday night for the first class of Paddock Publications' free golf school for the ladies at Arlington country club, Dundee road, west of route 83.

Golf pro Dan Taggart reported enthusiasm running high among the ladies, though the initial lesson was cut short due to the cold.

THREE MORE lessons are still on the docket for the Tuesday night group with an equal number of women electing to appear Thursday night for their instruction. This week's instruction is on the grip, with next week's plan including backswing.

The golf classes at the club are free to any woman or high school student of this area. They do not require registration with Paddock Publications, sponsors of the school, though most women did sign up to let class promoters know how many would attend.

EXTRA INCENTIVE for the ladies to improve their golf is the offer of Taggart to allow women to play a round of golf any weekday morning during May for just 50c, providing they tee off prior to 11 a. m. The golf pro feels if the women don't drop out to practice what they have just learned with regard to grip, backswing and follow-through, much of the instruction will be wasted.

All classes will start at 7 p.m. and will generally be one hour to an hour-and-a-half long. Golfers need bring only one club. All women not appearing Tuesday night are urged to be present Thursday night for the first of four sessions.

In event of rain classes that night will be extended an extra night. Women can call Wheeling 167 for further information regarding postponements direct from the club.

Enter final week of heavy sports schedule at Arlington and Palatine

The heavy schedule of sports activity continues at Palatine and Arlington Heights high schools with seven baseball games, six tennis matches, four golf events and two track meets slated for Heights squads Thursday through Thursday. At Palatine over the same period there are three baseball games, four golf matches and two track meets.

On the diamond at Arlington Coach Wally Grace's varsity journeys to Downers Grove Thursday determined to gain revenge for a previous 10-2 whipping, plays district ball at New Trier Saturday, either Maine or Palatine, and is scheduled to compete at LaGrange Monday.

COACH ORMSBEE'S frosh-soph nine plays host to Palatine Thursday, May 8, entertains Barrington Monday and invades Niles the following Thursday, while his freshman team tests Woodstock in McHenry county Tuesday.

Coach Curtis Larsen's golfers will be competing in district golf tournament at Mt. Prospect country club Friday, will entertain LaGrange Monday, host Niles Tuesday and travel to Hinsdale the following Thursday.

HEIGHT ENTRIES in that district golf play Saturday include Dick Tang, Dick Hauff, Berwyn Rascher, George Skelton, Bob LeMay, Jim Thomson, Grant Skelton and Ken Goodman.

Coach Russ Attis' cindermen compete in the Evanston district meet Saturday with fourteen boys running, then compete at Niles Tuesday in the final dual of the year.

Coach Ray DeGreeff's tennis squads have before them a match at Downers Grove Thursday, at Niles Friday, conference frosh-soph meet at Riverside Saturday, varsity encounter at Leyden Monday, double event at home with Glenbard Tuesday and entertain Crystal Lake in a varsity affair the following Thursday.

UP PALATINE way the frosh-soph nine travels to Arlington Thursday and the varsity has two games carded for Friday. First on the schedule was a league game with Grant which will probably give way to the district contest with Maine Friday, the Grant encounter probably being played next week. Claude Bailey is the mentor.

In golf, with Coach McElroy directing, the Pirate linksters will be at Bensenville Thursday, the district meet at Mt. Prospect country club Saturday, entertain Antioch and McHenry Monday at Inverness, stay there to meet Highland Park Tuesday, and play host to Crystal Lake and Barrington the following Thursday.

District track is on tap for Coach Dick Welty's runners Saturday with the second annual Northwest conference frosh-soph meet at Barrington Wednesday evening.

Tuesday night Rob Roy golf league

In spite of the chilly weather, there was a full turnout of members to play golf Tuesday, the opening night of play for the season.

Park Ridge Stop & Sock golfers won the team honors. H. Michael eclipsed all of his former scores by shooting a remarkable low net of 31.

NW frosh-soph meet Wednesday

The second annual Northwest conference frosh-soph track meet will be held at Barrington next Wednesday night at 6:00 p. m. as a twilight event. Palatine is the defending champ while Wauconda holds most of the records by virtue of first places in the first annual meet held at Palatine a year ago. On that occasion George Sutko won the 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, high jump, and broad jump and Don Lawrence took both high and low hurdles. Palatine was first, Wauconda second and Ela third in the point totals.

This year Palatine has beaten Antioch and Bensenville and the Bisons have taken the measure of Barrington in frosh-soph meets. However in an event involving all the schools of the league the results might be different. Palatine is still a heavy repeat favorite due to depth of material and an outstanding athlete in dashes, broad jump, and hurdles in Norman Stenzel.

Nine Bensenville boys in district

Nine Bensenville trackmen are slated to compete Saturday in the district track meet at Evanston, according to Coach John Trapp. They include Pedro Cuatrecasas, Richard Ewerling, Robert Gilmore, Fred Kauffman, Wesley Poor, Claude Vondruska, Kenneth Janice, Tom Walsh and Kenneth Gengel.

Glenbard nine upset Downers

Pitching the best game of the season, Wayne Gieske held league-leading Downers Grove to six scattered hits while Glenbard battered the notable Fister for a 3-2 triumph last Monday night.

Gieske tripled in the second inning to drive across two of Glenbard's three tallies. With Hollenbeck and McCrary both aboard, the versatile Gieske slammed a long drive which netted him a three-bagger. The Hilltoppers tallied again in the sixth to give them their one-run advantage.

In the triumph, Gieske fanned 10 batters while walking only a pair. He gave up one run in the third and after a lone tally had crossed the plate in the seventh, he put out the fire with little trouble.

Morgan Westley was the big gun in the Bard's batting attack. The center fielder smashed out a pair of safeties or half of Glenbard's hits. Frank Slater, beside Gieske, was the only other Bard to tag the ball safety.

Arlington frosh-sophs beat Maine nine, 10-4

Arlington frosh-soph baseballers took the measure of Maine Tuesday, 10-4. Roger Thomas and Wayne Brumm pitched for Heights, the latter getting credit for the win as he fanned five and walked one. Thomas struck out three and walked four.

The win gives the frosh-sophs a 1-1 record with Palatine Thursday next on the agenda.

Palatine sixth at DeKalb run

Palatine took sixth place with 27 16/35 points in the DeKalb Relays last Saturday. The Pirates took two seconds and two fourths in relays and a second and a fourth in individual events. Ottawa won the meet with 57 6/7 points. Hall Township was second with 36, West Aurora had 33, Dixon 30 3/5, and DeKalb 28 3/7 ahead of Palatine. Wauconda scored 11 points and Barrington 10 among other Northwest conference entries.

Palatine's best mark was a second in the 440 frosh-soph relay where the time of :47.7 was a Palatine school record. Paul Hess, Norman Stenzel, Don Hapke and Cornwell made up the frosh-soph team. A hurdle team of Stenzel, Burton, Nessett, Don Buenzow, and John Busch took second in the highs and fourth in the low hurdle shuttle events. Ness, Dick Abrahamson, Bill Senne, and Gerry Herrmann won fourth in the two mile distance medley relay.

BARRINGTON ran a very fine 380 relay to take third in the good time of 1:35.8. Ottawa ran 1:32 flat to take first with the best time made in the state this year in this event. Barrington's team was made up of Heckmiller, Popp, Lowry, and Anderberg. Barrington took fourth in the sprint medley.

Bob Nolan of Wauconda won the shot and was fourth in the discus to pace his team in the DeKalb meet.

Drug store battle

Keefer and Van Driel lead Mt. Prospect golf league divisions after first night

Mt. Prospect twilight golf league got its 12th season started last Tuesday and Wednesday with great success. Mother Nature can be credited with an assist as the temperature hovered in the high 70's making ideal golf weather conditions.

In the Tuesday division Keefer's Pharmacy got off to a quick start by bashing out a grand slam 10 points over Dooley Realtors. Van's Variety store did almost as well with 9½ points over H. Kruse's Schlitz to take second place. However, there are only 2½ points separating 1st place and 5th place in the Tuesday division. A five team scramble for first place is very apparent.

BIRDIES for the evening were scored by Floyd Parker on the 7th and Fred Erickson on the 12th.

Keefer's Pharmacy	10
Van's Store	9½
Winkleman's Service Sta.	8
K. R. Whitton Realtors	7½
Comm. Wm. Busse	7½
Moler's Barber Shop	2½
Mt. Prospect Electrical	2½
Golden's Food Shop	2
H. Kruse's Schlitz	½
Dooley Realtors	0

In the Wednesday division the race starts out with Van Driel's drug store hammering out an 8 point victory over Kirchhoff Insurance with great golf by Verne Thorson preventing Van Driel's from taking a grand slam. Busse Motor and Mt. Prospect Bowling Lanes, on the heels of the leaders, are holding down second and third places respectively. A close race is indicated in the Wednesday division with only 6 points separating first and tenth place.

There were plenty of birdies for the boys Wednesday evening: Lofty Eldridge scored a bird on No. 13 along with 300 yard Carlson, Bob Milligan and Verne Thorson. Len Johnson, Jr., scored a bird on the very tricky No. 18. Bob Mors made No. 7 his favorite with a beautiful tee shot and a perfectly executed putt.

Wednesday division:

Van Driel's Drug Store	8
Busse Motors	7
Mt. Prospect Bowling Lanes	6
Wille Lumber & Coal	5½
Hooks Nursery	5½
Mt. Prospect Lions Club	4½
Illinois Range	4½
Mt. Prospect State Bank	4
Busse Biermann Hardware	3
Kirchhoff Insurance	2

Arlington golfers win four, lose one

Arlington Heights high school golfers piled up four wins in the past week beating Leyden, York, Proviso and Maine. Their only loss came at the hands of Palatine, 8½-6½.

In a match Tuesday at the Old Orchard course Dick Tang of the Cardinals led his mates to a 15½-2½ win over Leyden as none of the visitors managed to break in the 70 column.

Tang A (77) beat Druger L (86) 2½ to ½. Dick Hauff A (75) beat Bielock L (88) 3 to 0. B. Rascher A (80) beat Hall L (89) 3 to 0. George Skelton A (82) downed Briscoe L (80) 2 to 1. Jim Thomson A (84) downed Hey L (96) 3 to 0. Bob LeMay A (84) beat Albright L (99) 3 to 0.

THE CARDINALS in a match Monday at White Pines in Bensenville downed the York squad, 5½ to 2½. Tang's 75 was low.

Tang A (75) downed Halley Y (76) 1 to 0. Hauff A (77) beat Eichenberger Y (78) 1 to 0. Rascher A (79) beat Grayheck Y 84) 1 to 0. Geo. Skelton A (83) fell before Hoffie Y (76) 1 to 0. Thomson A (89) beat Johnson (90) 1 to 0. LeMay A was beaten by Gillis Y (85) 1 to 0. G. Skelton A (96) tied with Schoenbeck Y (96) ½ to ½. Goodman A (82) beat Vihanek Y (99) 1 to 0.

THE CARDINALS displayed their usual winning form, downing Maine 6 to 2 Thursday at Old Orchard. Four of the Arlington squad broke in the 70 column. Tang was one under par with a 71.

Tang A (71) downed Fiebing M (75) 1 to 0. Hauff A (75) beat Polleys M (79) 1 to 0. Rascher A (74) beat Nelson M (78) 1 to 0. George Skelton A (78) beat Smythe M (79) 1 to 0. LeMay A (81) beat Bick M (85) 1 to 0. Thomson A (87) lost to Bone M (84) 1 to 0. G. Skelton A (79) beat D. Bone M (90) 1 to 0. Goodman A (90) lost to King M (89) 1 to 0.

The frosh-soph squad defeated Leyden's team Tuesday, 15-0, at Old Orchard. Goodman of Arlington was low with an 83. Only one of the visitors, Lasky, who had a 95, managed to score below 100.

Palatine, Arlington Heights and Proviso split even in double dual golf matches at Inverness Friday. Palatine beat Arlington Heights 8½-6½, Arlington beat Proviso 8½ to 6½, and Proviso nosed out Palatine 8-7. Palatine and Arlington golfers shot poorer scores than usual.

Etherton's 78 for Proviso was the only count under 80. Etherton was second in the national caddy tournament last summer. Tom Smith was Palatine's best with an 80 while Tang's 84 was Arlington' best.

1. Smith (Pal) 40-40: 80

Barrington and Bensenville win

The favored Bensenville and Barrington baseball teams are out in front in the Northwest conference race with victories in their first two games. Good pitching by Jim Karrigan featured Bensenville's victories while heavy hitting put over two one sided wins for Harmon's Barrington Bronchos.

Thursday Barrington took their second victory, a 9-3 decision over Antioch. Pohlman pitched and D. Iverson was behind the bat all the way for Barrington while Lubkeman of Antioch was relieved by Stockman and Rentner did the receiving. Both teams made four errors and Barrington had an 8-6 hitting advantage. The Bronchos bunched hits with errors to score two in the first frame, four in the third, and three in the sixth. Antioch got one in the sixth and two in the top half of the seventh.

FRIDAY KARRIGAN hurled a no-hit game for Bensenville to beat Palatine on their own grounds, 8-1. Karrigan's fast ball had the Palatine hitters handcuffed and swinging at all kinds of pitches. The result was 17 strike-outs though Karrigan walked one and hit two. A hit batsman, a walk, a fielder's choice, and an overthrow let Palatine get their lone run in the first inning.

The Bisons scored two in the first, three in the third, and three in the sixth. The Bensenville team got five hits and made one error. Palatine made three misplays. Bob Meyer, Paul Schrage, and Frank Kummel all took a turn on the mound for the Pirates. Don Zoellick caught for Palatine and Marlyn Merholtz for Bensenville.

ELA-VERNON drubbed Northbrook, 12-3, at Lake Zurich last Friday. The Bears got 12 hits to Northbrook's three featured by a home run by George Radke. Ela blasted Bowne from the mound with seven runs in the third frame and was replaced by Webster. Landwehr was Northbrook's receiver. Obenauf and Prouty pitched and Wesner and Altman shared catching duties for Ela.

Arlington frosh-soph thinclads fifth in Riverside invitational

Arlington's frosh-soph trackmen copped fifth place in the Riverside-Brookfield invitational meet for yearlings Friday, taking 15½ points. La Grange took first with Glenbard second in the meet.

High point man for Coach John Ligon was Dick Winterbauer. He took first in the shot and second in the discus for nine points. Other points garnered locally were by Bob Ellis, third in the 440; Dick Malcomson, fourth in the broad jump, and Dick Michalski, tied for third in the pole vault.

Bard frosh-soph runners surprise

Glenbard Pony cindermen met their first track test Friday afternoon with astonishing results. The Bard thinclads captured second place, right behind mighty LaGrange, with 38½ points in the annual Riverside frosh-soph invitational meet.

One of the individual stars of the day was Tom Peters who won the discus event with a flip of 134 feet, 7 inches. Peters counted for the Hilltoppers again when he took second in the shot with a 45-foot effort.

Griesheimer, sophomore hurdler, turned in another blue-ribbon performance when he captured the high hurdles in :16.9.

Freshman Hein kept the Bard scoring machine rolling as he tied for first in the high jump with a leap of 5 feet, 2 inches. Hein also won third in the low hurdles. Chuck Picton placed second in the 100 yard sprint with LT's Topps edging him out.

However, the speedy sophomore picked up some more points as he paced to a third-place finish in the 220.

Griesheimer also added a fourth in the low hurdles. Carl Helledy tied for fourth in the pole vault while Les Madsen garnered fifth in the discus.

Card runners top Wauconda

Arlington's tracksters copped a comparatively close meet with Wauconda Thursday on the Heights field, with four events accounting for all of the 30 point margin. Heights won 71 7/12 to 41 5/12.

The local thinclads scored grand slams in the low hurdles and 880, first and second in the 440, and copped the relay. Those four events accounted for the 30 point margin.

Sutko of Wauconda took the high hurdles in :15.9, the 100 in :10.8, ad was second to Grimm in the broad jump. The latter jumped 18'9".

Other firsts for the losers were Buffun in the mile in 5:01, Nolan in the shot at 48'9", and Nolan and Vaskot in the high jump.

FOR ARLINGTON Barkhausen tied for first in the mile at :10.8, copped the 220 in :23.3, Barr took the 440 in :54.6, Kent the low hudles in :22.3, Ragland the 880 in 2:09.7, Winterbauer the discus at 137'8", Grimm the broad jump and Michalski and Leckband in the pole vault at 9'6".

Card runners top Riverside

Arlington Heights high school track team gained their third victory of the season by swamping Riverside, 86-32, Tuesday on the loser's home grounds.

The frosh-soph squad fell before the Riverside runners, 50-53.

The Cardinals took first place honors in all except two of the events. Six second place markers and a similar number of third place honors were also won by the Heights tracksters.

Borgardt of Arlington edged his mate Chris Kent to win the high hurdles in :16.2.

In the 100, Barkhausen of Arlington broke the tape in :10.7, to take first.

Arlington tracksters teamed up in the half-mile relay to break the tape in 1:38.5. The Cardinals also won the mile relay winning in 3:51.

Maine defeats Glenbard, 6-1

Muffing their chances to take another step up the conference ladder, Glenbard's diamond-men were just another victim in Maine's path, 6-1, at the local park.

Devil pitcher Bean baffled the Bard sluggers until the third inning when the locals pushed across their sole run of the contest. The Blue Demon twirler scattered six Bard hits while striking out 10 and giving up only one base on ball.

Maine had a strong lead as they slammed across two in the initial frame and added another tally in the second. By the time Glenbard scored its lone tally, Maine was way out in front. After Hollenbeck had popped up to French, Whitehead singled, stole second, and romped home a moment later when Weichenhain rapped a single to center field.

Friday night bowlers 'watch' Max Ernst for 13 years service

Arlington's Max Ernst no longer has any qualms about number 13 being unlucky, and he has a brand new wrist watch to prove it.

Fellow members of the Friday night league at Arlington Hts. bowling lanes expressed their appreciation for the 13 years of service Max has given the league as secretary-treasurer by presenting him with a watch Friday night. Sponsor of Ernst's team, Clarence Tody, combined with members of the loop to provide the watch.

Palatine racks up 100 points in triangular

The Palatine Pirate track team became heavy favorites to win the Northwest conference track championship as they scored 100½ points to Antioch's 33, Grant's 28 and Bensenville's 25½ in a track meet at Palatine last Wednesday (April 30).

Burton Nesset was high point man for Palatine as he swept both the high and low hurdles for a total of 10 ponts. Egly had 15 points for Bensenville, Kramer had 13 for Grant and high point man for Antioch was Larson with 10 points.

Heights tennis squads lose twice to La Grange

Arlington's tennis squads suffered another double loss Thursday, this time to La Grange on the local courts. The singles were all runaway affairs with the doubles giving Heights one set and the only other near-even competition.

The number one doubles combination of Alan Ross and Ray Holmes dropped their first set to Prater and Grosser, 6-3, took the second one by the same tally, but succumbed in the rubber match, once again by 6-3.

Jaw Vawter and Charles Knapp, number two doubles, also lost, but only by 7-5 and 6-4. The only other 6-3 loss was by Hutchinson and Schroeder, 6-2 and 6-1, to Simonson and Dutgon.

Record setter

Verne Busse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Verne Busse, 900 N. State rd., Arlington Heights, was a member of a two-mile relay team at Coe college which broke a record in that event Saturday, May 1, in the sixth annual Coe relays in Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

The team ran the two-mile event in 8:18.1 to shatter a Coe relays record of 8:25.2 which had been on the books for five years.

The team was the youngest on the program, being composed of three freshmen and Busse, a sophomore. Nine Midwest colleges took part.

Busse also was a member of a relay team which placed third in the mile. He has now placed in every track meet at which he was represented this season.

Hinsdale gains revenge; beats Arlington, 8-2

The tables were turned at Hinsdale Thursday afternoon when Coach Wally Grace's Arlington baseball team dropped an 8-1 decision to the host school, a squad they had previously whipped, 8-2. It was a case of Heights being stymied by Howie Bauer's pitching, the Cards getting just two safeties, and three errors on the part of the locals.

Bauer went all the way, fanning seven and walking three. For Arlington Tom Meyer started, lasted two innings, permitted five runs (three of them earned), gave up three hits and four walks, and struck out one. Bob Simmons was on the mound three innings, permitting two runs (one earned), gave up four hits, walked three, and struck out seven. Harry Munn finished in the sixth.

HINSDALE scored two runs the opening frame when L. Konicki, Krause and Greek walked, followed by Don Vena's single and a balk by Meyer. In the third L. Konicki doubled to left and went to third on Lynk's error in handling Krause's grounder. After Marek was given one ball, Meyer was relieved by Simmons, who finished the gift and the bases were loaded.

Greek singled, Konicki and Krause scored. Don Vena walked and D. Konicki singled, scoring Marek and Greek. Vena was trapped off third and run down, Intravartolo to Eakins to Intravartolo.

Hinsdale tallied one in the fifth on hits by Greek and Spamer, plus walks to Vena and Bauer. In the sixth the winners scored an unearned run without a hit on two errors by third baseman Bobby Thompson and a walk to Vena.

HEIGHTS SCORED its lone run in the third inning. Nolte walked, stole second as Dassonville struck out, waited while Meyer popped to Konicki, and scored on Grace's single.

Heights yearling nines split

Arlington's yearling baseball squads, coached by "Bus" Ormsbee, gained an even split this past week with the frosh whipping Leyden Wednesday, 7-4, and the frosh-sophs losing to the Elgin junior-varsity Thursday, 7-3.

There was never much doubt as to outcome in the Leyden affair with the locals carding two runs in the first inning, two in the second, and one in each of the fourth, fifth and sixth frames. The losers tallied only in the seventh.

JIM LAUGHLIN and Dick France were big guns for the frosh, each getting three hits. France knocked out a double and two singles while Laughlin accounted for a triple.

On the mound for Arlington Wayne Brumm looked good, as did Bick at first. Brumm had allowed just two hit ball until the seventh inning when Leyden got to him for four safeties. He struck out 13 and walked one. Krause fanned ten and walked four for Leyden.

A BIG SEVENTH for Elgin took the other contest, 7-3, when the winners scored four times. Mike Shanklin had done a good job on the mound until the seventh when Ed Linneman relieved.

Heights drew first blood in the opening frame, saw it tied, 1-all, in the second, with both schools scoring a pair in the third. Thomas was tops in hitting for the losers with three hit.

Scoring for Arlington in the first was the result of a single by Ryden, a walk to Lemke and a single by Thomas. In the third Lemke walked before Thomas doubled and scored on an error.

Glenbard girls win

Glenbard's girls' tennis team, one of the few interscholastic competitive girls' group in the West Suburban conference, have racked up two victories this season. They white-washed the Hinsdale squad on April 24, 4-0, and turned in a 4-1 triumph over Leyden's netters last Thursday.

Helgeson and Snyder to head Parkway bowlers

Harris Helgeson of Palatine and Chuck Snyder of Arlington Heights were selected to head the Parkway bowling league Tuesday night in an election following the annual awards banquet held at Hapsburg Inn. Bob Paddock was re-elected secretary.

The forty-six bowlers and wives present also saw one change voted for next year, that of competing in two halves, the winners playing for the championship.

Eight trophies were awarded Tuesday night with winning awards going to George Pearson, Harris Helgeson, John Larsen, Albert Robinson and Bob Paddock. High average trophy was granted to Albert Parkhurst (180), high series to Charles Snyder (630), and high game to Glen Quade (247).

Coal's self sufficiency

Of all the important industrial metals and minerals mined in this country, our self-sufficiency is increasing in only three major fields—sulphur, salt and coal.

Arlington edges Maine, 3-2

Arlington Heights Cardinal nine made amends for a previous 4-3 loss to Maine by winning, 3-2, on the local diamond Monday afternoon in a contest that saw each team score all of its runs in one inning, then have the game played under protest from the fifth frame on.

With one down in the fifth, Gallup and Steiner singled to center for Maine, Green struck out to ease the tension.

Up came Clem Ryan who tripled over "Red" Nolte's head in center, scoring Gallup and Steiner. On the relay from Nolte to Lynk, the shortstop threw high to the plate. Twirler Bob Simmons, backing up Intravartolo, caught the relay and tossed to "Trav" in an attempt to nab Ryan, streaking for home.

THE BALL hit Gallup, however, who had scored and was standing, back to the ball, signalling for Ryan to come in and tie the score. Umpire Albert Thompson of Brookfield ruled the side retired and the score stood, 3-2, the rest of the game with Coach O. K. Wilson of Maine protesting.

If the protest is carried on to league officials an impartial board of principals of the six noncompeting schools of the conference will rule.

BOB SIMMONS pitched all the way for Coach Wally Grace, allowing eight hits, fanning six and walking four. For Maine it was Al Bean two and one-third innings, allowing five safeties, striking out two, walking a pair, and being charged with all three runs.

Arlington scored in the bottom of the third when Grace singled to left, Lynk was hit by a pitched ball, the two of them being sacrificed by Hans Schmidt.

Eakins walked, loading the bags. Intravartolo then singled to center, scoring Grace and Lynk, Eakins going to third and "Trav" to second on the throw to third. Fendius replaced Bean, but Nolte beat out an infield roller, Eakins scoring and "Trav" going to third.

Intravartolo was out at the plat on Hesch's fielder's choice, Nolte going to third. Gene Dassonville forced Nolte at third to end the inning.

BRIGHT LIGHT for the locals is the final emergence of Intravartolo to his last year's performance. He notched two hits Monday and looked good getting them. Ronnie Grace also connected twice.

Glenbard blast Riverside, 14-1

Blasting out 11 hits, four Riverside pitchers vainly tried to stop the big bats of Glenbard as they pounded out a 14-4 victory over the Ribs last week.

Three Bard twirlers—Gieske, Whitehead and Mallgren gave up only three hits, the trio coming in the second and third frames. The Ribs strated off badly in the initial innings when the RB pitcher loaded the bases with no outs.

However, only a pair of Hilltoppers crossed the plate. While Riverside moved ahead in the top of the second with a three-run spree, the Bards followed it up with another 2-run rally.

Although the zootowners were held scoreless for the next four innings, this didn't bother the Bards. They pushed across four in the fourth, their biggest rally of the afternoon, and they followed this up with two three-run innings.

Dick Ebling, Frank Slater, and Ronnie Willis paced the rampaging Hilltoppers. Each connected for a pair of safeties.

Denny Vorbau, who has hit safety in every Glenbard game, ended his streak in the Rib game in four trips to the plate, he failed to account for any hits.

Hirst, Janca and Fox were the only RB'ers to connect for safeties. The Bards also took advantage of five RB errors while the Bards committed four themselves.

Box score:

York retains DuPage crown

York	52	Glenbard	31
Wheaton	36½	Hinsdale	31
Downers	36	Naperville	23½

George Moyers of Hinsdale bettered his own high hurdles record as York scored 52 points to retain its title in the 16th annual DuPage county track meet Tuesday afternoon at Downers Grove. Moyers ran the 120 yard high hurdles in :20.7, 1.5 seconds under his '51 mark of :22.2.

Other first included Moyers of Hinsdale in the low hurdles, :15.1; Daube of York in the 100, :10.5; Daube of York in the 220, :23.5; Schricker of York in the 440, :52.2; Beamer of York in the 880, 2:05.4; Pepick of Downers in the mile, 4:39; Radford of Wheaton in the shot. 48' 10¾"; Peters of Glenbard in the discuss, 137'; Harp of Glenbard in the broad jump, 20' 6½"; Brown of Downers in the high jump, 5' 8"; Dee of Downers and Yde of York in the pole vault, 11' 6"; York in the 880 yard relay, 1:35.5; Wheaton in the mile relay, 3:42.6.

Accident records

From 1900 to the end of 1906, deaths from the new horseless carriages averaged about 320 a year. In 1907, according to the best records available, the motor vehicle death toll was 666. The following year 834 fatalities occurred and by 1909 there were 1,254 persons killed

"Our Aim: To Fear God, Tell The Truth, and Make Money." — H. C. Paddock, 1898-1935

Happenings 10, 20, 30, 40 and 50 years ago this week

Sixty Years ago

This department has come into possession of some interesting clippings of Chicago newspapers published over 60 years ago. Extracts from them will be published this week.

HUMAN FORMS DIVINE

Only one in a hundred women fulfill the exacting requirements of the perfect body

WANTED: Perfectly formed women; duties light; position permanent; good pay. Address this office.

The above ad was published in the New York Mail by a dress reform manufacturer who was in need of models to show all the company's wares.

The perfect woman should have a figure without an angular line. She will stand at the average height of 5'2" to 5'7". weigh 125 to 140 lbs., a plumb line dropped from a point marked by the tip of her nose will meet at a point 1" in front of her great toe. Her shoulders and her hips will strike a straight line drawn up and down. Her waist will taper gradually to a size on a line drawn from the outer third at the collar bones to the hips. Her bust will measure from 28 to 36 inches. Her hips will measure from 6 to 10 inches more than this. The calf of her leg and arm should measure about the same. Her legs should be about as long as a line drawn from her chin to her finger tips. She should measure from her waist to her feet about a foot more than from her waist to the crown of her head.

The advertiser when asked why he had so much difficulty in finding the perfectly formed woman said, "How can she be physically perfect so long as she follows the present plan of dressing herself? When, instead of the corsets and bustles, the loops and aggregation of skirts now worn, woman's dress is fixed beyond the control of fashion, then we may in a measure return to the exquisite beauty and harmony of movement embodied in the perfect woman. Humanity inherits its physical imperfections from vicious fathers and injudicious and ignorant mothers. What with the irregularity of hours, the lack of attention as to what they eat and the excesses of the parents, I marvel that we have as hardy a race as we have. Take the corset alone for example. The most important organs of the body lie within the region compressed by them. The very cry that goes up from womankind when they are told to lay aside their stays is, 'I could not live without my corsets. I feel as if I should drop apart.'"

"Although sizes in footwear and gloves vary somewhat, I have noticed that the well proportioned woman wears a shoe one-half the size of the glove that her hand calls for; thus, if a lady wears a six glove, she should wear a three shoe."

The article also criticizes the male, and ends with a statement that the sport or pastime that will develop all portions of the body at once—the muscles, the brain and the will at the same time—are horseback riding and fencing.

● WONDERFUL

Can it really be true? That's the question that everyone is asking himself and all of his neighbors about this wonderful spring, the most beautiful spring that has hit this country in many a long weary year.

Yes, we have had these kind of springs before, but they are so unusual that the old timers can about count them on the fingers of one hand. From winter, right into the lap of summer, all in one big jump, has been the history of this spring's performance.

One day the hard maple trees were barely showing their buds, by the next evening they were so leafed out that they were actually giving shade. And the fruit trees—they all burst into bloom at once, the apple trees which should be a week or ten days behind the peach, plum and pear, were all blooming right along with the early blooming fruit trees, and just about every fruit tree, big, little, healthy and cripples all were bursting with bloom at every spot where a bloom could form. If all these fruit blooms get by a late frost, this should be a bumper fruit year.

And not only the fruit trees burst into bloom early under the influence of weather, warmer than we have had for a couple of summers, the bulbs and flowering shrubs kept pace right with them and flowers were in bloom by May 5 that often do not reach their prime on Decoration day.

It's all been very wonderful—the beautiful trees, the blooming shrubs and bulbs, the woods carpeted with wild flowers where, too, the late bloomers were keeping pace right with the early blooms just like the fruit trees were doing. Yes, it's all been very wonderful and very beautiful, but can it last? That's the question that's being asked on all sides these glorious days and it's a question to which only time can give the answer.

Does all this unseasonable weather mean a late frost or a freeze that will ruin everything? The farmers' almanac we hear says this is the real thing and is going to keep up. Personally, we made a bet of a buck with a friend the other day that we were still going to have a freeze. Then, after making the bet, we stopped in at Knupper's Nursery out there on Rand road and Mr. Knupper, like us, was of the opinion that a frost would come and his wife was even more specific—she was predicting a frost by May 9.

After hearing those predictions from those experienced and weather-wise nursery people, my friend thought he hadn't made such a hot bet, but with a week of the same beautiful weather, since then he's getting cocky and wants to collect, but we're not paying off before June 10. We have seen too many springs in this country and have seen too many things happen.

We hope that everything stays beautiful. We hope we lost that bet, but we still think that a freeze is coming. We've seen it happen too often in years past.

● EARLY BIRD

Harold Kolze, the truck grower who runs that fresh vegetable stand out on the highway at Palatine, is an early bird in the gardening business and this early spring has encouraged him to take a chance. He has had tomato plants out in the open field for a week.

Well, if a killing frost comes, he'll lose his plants, but if the weather holds good and stays warm, he'll hit the market with early tomatoes that will bring top prices. Harold figures that it was worth taking a chance and he may have the right hunch. After all, long shots do win ever so often and when they do, they really pay off.

A lot of farmers have taken a gamble on sweet corn, a lot of it has been planted and some is already up. The farmers are way ahead with their work this spring, oats are up weeks earlier than they were planted for the last couple of years, and a lot of corn land is ready for the planter.

● THE "RIPPER UPPER"

Speaking of gardens, the early winter hit last fall before we could get our garden plowed, and it's low ground that makes early spring plowing impossible. So we thought we were in a bad way for a garden this year until we met Walter Schinkowsky one day and he was telling about a new roto tiller he had just purchased.

We told him our problem and he laughed, "Don't let that worry you, I'll churn that garden up when it dries out a litle and it will be in better shape than if you tried to spring plow."

Well, we had our doubts on that, but we haven't any more. The other evening Walter showed up with that machine and he ground up that unplowed land into a fine seed bed, fit for any sort of a crop, that "ripper upper" of his sure did a fine job and we've got a lot better seed bed than if we had tried to spring plow the garden.

● SQUELCHED

One friend gave us a dandy story the other day about some folks who turned their clock the wrong way and were so sure that they were right that they lost a bet on the operation to boot.

Then another friend, who, some of his associates think lets too many cats out of the bag sometimes about the antics of his friends, got a telephone call which insisted that he keep still about this same incident and that there be no publicity. So all that puts this reporter squarely in the middle and just in order to keep everyone out of trouble, there is one fine story that is squelched.

● ANOTHER GIFT

The district 15 school has been the beneficiary of a lot of presents from groups and organizations, the last of which was a fine water softener which has been presented to the school by Palatine Post of the American Legion.

The Legion boys recently presented the high school with a water softener also, so now the boys have got both schools outfitted with those useful articles.

One gift made several years ago that is very much in evidence at this time of year and which does a lot to beautify the school grounds, was the planting of tulips by the Palanois Park Garden club. Those tulip beds are now a blaze of glory and add much to the appearance of the school premises.

● READY FOR ACTION

The other evening we saw the dog paddy wagon parked in front of the village hall, so we assume that the contraption is now ready to hook on behind the police car and go into action. That outfit is to obtain stray dogs that are captured while running at large. What can be done about the tied up dogs, that whine, yowl, and bark at all hours of the day and night, keep a person awake or wake up the whole neighborhood with their ungodly racket?

When a fellow gets one of those tied up pests on each side of him, it's just a little too much. If some of those dogs had a little freedom, they'd be a lot happier and so would everyone within earshot. Is there some way for that dog cage to cart them away too?

● AGAIN

Once more, Ben Jones, the Calumet farm, and jockey, Eddie Arcaro, have grabbed off the Kentucky Derby. That stunt has grown to be a habit with all three of those folks, it's got to be sort of monotonous to other breeders, trainers and jockeys. But they'll probably keep right on doing the trick ever so often until a better combination comes along.

Incidentally, the present season promises to be the greatest racing season in many years. The government shut down on the bookies seems to have caused a big increase in business at the tracks, they are all rolling up new records.

Youth orchestra in concert next week Friday in Chicago

The youth orchestra of Greater Chicago, under the direction of Herman Felber, will give its annual spring concert Friday evening, May 16, in Orchestra Hall. The young musicians, all members of high-school orchestras in the metropolitan Chicago area, will play compositions by Handel, Schumann, Tschaikowsky, Schubert, Rimsky-Korsakov and Gershwin.

A special feature of the program will be selections from Bizet's "Carmen," sung by the combined choirs of Maine township high school. Alexander Harley, musical director at Maine, will conduct the 350-voice choir.

Six students at Arlington Hts. township high school are members of the Youth Orchestra. They are: Marilyn Jeanne Fischer, 802 S. I-Oka ave., Mt. Prospect; Chris Kent, 611 N. Douglas, Arlington Heights; Barbara Kilburn, 1106 E. Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights; Mary L. Meineke, Higgins rd., Arlington Heights; Jared Spears, 304 Marion ave., Prospect Heights; and Martha Zepp, 216 S. Louis st., Mt. Prospect.

Auditions for next year's orchestra will be held from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday, May 24, in Wurlitzer's Rehearsal Hall, 115 S. Wabash ave., Chicago. High school students interested in auditioning are requested to phone Winnetka 6-1314 for an appointment.

Des Plaines frowns upon lumber company

A letter dispatched by the city of Des Plaines to the Edward Hines Lumber Co., stating it is the council's informal opinion the five-acre tract at the northwest corner of Golf and Wolf roads, should not be used for industrial purposes.

That suggestion followed a public hearing Wednesday evening, April 23, at which nearly 125 residents of the area strongly protested zoning the farm land industrial to permit construction of a retail store and lumber yard by Hines.

The company has not yet made a formal request for the rezoning but there are indications that it may, in spite of the sentiment of Cumberland Terraceites.

Traffic deaths

American war casualties during the first 18 months of fighting in Korea averaged 33 deaths per day, the same toll that prevailed in the first year of the war to last June 25. On U.S. highways the automobile fatality toll for the identical 18 months since the start of the Korean war has been computed at 103 deaths per day, four higher than the daily average for traffic deaths during the first year of the war.

Roller rink

I am interested in finding out whether your paper has ever called attention to a local nuisance which disturbs us and many of our neighbors each spring and summer. As soon as warm weather arrives the Arlington Roller Rink at 1006 W. Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights, apparently throws open its windows and the strains of not-so-sweet music assail our ears.

We live more than a half mile from the rink; yet the steady, monotonous drone of the organ is so loud that it sounds as if we live next door to a perpetual carnival. To add to the noise, at frequent intervals the announcer bellows remarks over a loud-speaker. Those who live closer to the rink must find the clamor even more irritating.

The only remedy is to drown out the noise by playing our own radio or television loudly but we don't always want to have a program turned on. My business makes it necessary to much reading, writing and research work in the evenings and as the roller rink gets noisier I find the only way to accomplish this is to keep our windows closed—which becomes quite disagreeable on a warm summer night. Certainly many other residents with children or invalids who must get their rest and others who have work or studying to do, or just want a little peace and quiet in the garden, must be equally annoyed.

I am sure that if a private citizen turned on his radio or television set so loudly that the neighbors were annoyed some city ordiance would be quickly invoked to stop him. Why is a business permitted to wreck the peaceful residential quiet every night, except Monday, until eleven o'clock and all Sunday afternoon? Surely, this firm can be compelled to install air conditioning and keep its windows shut. I hope you will urge that some steps be taken in this direction.

Like Palatine

In last week's Palatine Enterprise you carried a by-line column on the front page of your paper which upset me very much. I like the Palatine Enterprise although I am not one of your old line subscribers but have only been on your subscription list for the past few years. You see I am one of those Chicago emigrants to which you referred.

I am not going into a lengthy discourse on the subject of the Personal Property Tax. My personal feelings on this tax are that this travesty on the intelligence of the citizenry of Illinois should be removed from the books and a tax to substitute for the Personal Property Tax should be enacted and enforced. Why so few people must share the tax burden for so many is beyond the scope of my comprehension.

But to get back to the subject of my letter—that is the reference to Chicago emigrants. The few old timers that are left in the community of Palatine certainly take great pride in announcing to the public at every opportunity that all of the present problems, such as poor streets, poor police equipment, poor payment of personal property taxes, poor drainage, poor sewers etc. are all the fault of the newcomers to Palatine.

There is an old saying "let's count our blessings before we bemoan our misfortunes." Other emigrants to Palatine like myself from Chicago—like my friends from Texas, Massachusetts, California and many other states of the union who have made their homes here in Palatine are contributing daily to the future of Palatine. We buy our goods and services in Palatine—we send our children to Palatine schools—we attend Palatine churches—we take part in the civic and fraternal aspects of our adopted "home-town" — we take great pride in our homes and gardens. We, the emigrants are contributing—we are not getting a "free-ride" and if the Enterprise thinks so they had better come around and talk to their new citizens. In fact, the editor of the Enterprise should know how much we are contributing to the welfare of this area if he would only check his advertising revenue against his books of six years ago.

Five ways to str-e-tch that gas

Motorists who are casting a worried look at their dwindling gas supply during the current oil industry strike can get a few more miles per gallon if they follow the advice of Edward F. Obert, professor of mecahnical engineering at Northwestern university's technological institute.

Professor Obert, in charge of the internal combustion engine laboratories, says that tests at Northwestern show you'll get more mileage if you:

1. AVOID PUSHING the accelerator pedal down to the floor. The average motorist wastes at least three miles per gallon by fast starts, Professor Obert says.
2. Hold your speed down to 40 miles an hour or less. This can also save you four miles per gallon or more, he says.
3. Keep the accelerator pedal in one position as much as possible. Nervously—and uselessly—"gunning" the throttle wastes gas, Obert points out.
4. IF YOUR CAR doesn't have an automatic choke, push your choke back in after starting.
5. Shift from first to third gear as quickly as possible, skipping second gear altogether. If you get your speed up to eight or ten miles an hour in first gear, you should be able to shift immediately to third, he asserts.

Weekly recipe

Here are two recipes to assist you in making Blossom Salad, a main dish featuring fresh vegetables. Use the Pistachio French Dressing to top the most delicious salad you have ever eaten.

Blossom Salad

Head lettuce
French escorole
Green onions
Sliced chicken—finger strips
Sliced ham—finger strips
Sliced Swiss cheese — finger strips
Hard cooked eggs
Pistachio French dres
Tomato wedges
Spinach

Method: Line individual salad bowls with the outside leaves of lettuce. Chop lettuce hearts, green onions, tops and all, and and spinach together and place in the lettuce cups. Arrange chicken, ham, and cheese strips attractively over greens. Cut hard cooked eggs in quarters and place in bowl of greens. Pour over all Pistachio dressing and garnish with tomato wedges.

Pistachio French Dressing

½ cup pistachio nuts, finely cut
1 tsp. salt
½ tsp. dry mustard
3 tbspn. sugar
4 tbspn. vinegar
1 cup salad oil
1 tbspn. onion juice
A whisper of garlic, if desired

Method: Mix dry ingredients; add vinegar and beat well. Slowly add oil beating all the while. This is a rich basic French dressing. Add nuts and continue beating for one minute longer.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

One day each year, we set aside a day to honor mother.
The family turns out to church,
from dad to little brother,
With flowers in their buttonholes, or pinned upon their dresses,
They praise her with their dearest words, and tenderest caresses.

The preacher gives a sermon that applauds her to the skies,
While mother takes her handkerchief, and dabs tears from her eyes,
And here and there a sob is heard—a mother has departed,
Long years ago, and left behind, her children, broken-hearted.

The service ends, and people leave, content their duty's done
To have their Sunday dinner, or spend the day in fun,
Or visit with their neighbors, or take a pleasant walk,
Or look at television, or sit around and talk.

But mother puts her apron on,
and hurries to the kitchen;
To serve a perfect dinner is her present chief ambition—
I often wonder what she thinks,
when thoughtless son or daughter
Has lost in their own pleasure, completely, now, forgot her!

In the future

Even dental hygiene has gone mechanized now with an electric toothbrush which features interchangeable brushes so that one unit serves the whole family . . . A service table which doubles as a home bar is equipped with wheels for easy moving and can be folded flat for storage when the party is over . . . Another special device for the home-freezer age presses hamburgers and other meat patties into uniform size for storage. One hundred wax-paper squares for wrapping come with the press . . . Simplicity is the feature of a one-piece water softener for small stores, offices and homes. The machine is electrically operated and employs synthetic resins to increase softening efficiency. JUST AROUND THE CORNER

from PATTY McARDLE

Dear Peg:

Remember a week ago Sunday—that beautiful, balmy day, when the temperature was close to eighty and one could almost believe that summer was on her way? You were probably working in your garden, or going somewhere for a picnic, or perhaps just relaxing in the sunshine. Well, early that bright morning we were driving to one of our favorite places, Manapisu Farm, to see "Gamma," "Gampa," George and Edward. Fortunately, we were early enough to avoid much of the Sunday traffic on Route 41, so it seemed like no time at all before we were turning off on 173 and heading west toward Harvard.

On each side of the highway the rolling pastures of new grass, the freshly plowed fields and the budding trees filled the warm air with the faint, tingling scent of springtime. Channel Lake, very blue and quiet, sparkled in the sunlight and already was spotted with the tiny rowboats of early fishermen. Along the shore, almost all the picnic tables were claimed by large wicker baskets of food and blankets.

VERY SHORTLY we passed through Richmond (where Anderson's candy is made—absolutely the most delicious chocolate confections I have ever tasted!), through Hebron (the home of the famous basketball team), through Alden (where Bill, in his blacksmith shop, has made several attractive wrought iron pieces for Manapisu), and reached the winding, country road that leads into the farm.

As soon as we turned into the lane and Megan saw "Gamma" and "Gampa" coming to meet us, she clamored to get out of the car—she knows that little surprises and lots of fun are in store for her when she visits her Grandparents!

IT SEEMS as if there is always something new to see when we visit Ma and Papa — perhaps the first blossom of a lovely flower, or an unusual antique recently acquired. This time we were thrilled to see the additional work done on "Children's House"—a five room apartment built over the large garage and work shop. I'm certain that when Megan's "Gamma" gave the apartment its name she was anticipating it filled to overflowing with all her little grandchildren! Aside from the fact that "Gamma's" anticipation will very probably one day be realized, the additional sleeping space is needed now. With the second grandchild on its way, it would be almost impossible for all of us to stay comfortably over night in the family's small, ranch type, white frame home. Also, with all its space and own cooking facilities, "Children's House" will lend itself beautifully to the housing of several couples or families for a weekend.

Although not yet decorated, it even now is charming with its little walk around two sides of the building, protected by a sturdy white railing and conveniently reached through the French doors leading from each bedroom. Being on the second floor, the views from all the windows present a panorama of green against the vivid colors of the and miniature red and white farmhouses and to the west, the skyline of house-tops and spires aaginst the vivid colors of the setting sun.

AS SOON as we finished our dinner and Megan was put down for her nap, Edward brought out his pictures and log of the family's recent trip East. Judging from the enthusiasm of our well informed "lecturer," the visits to Gettysburg, Ft. McHenry, Independence Hall, the government buildings in Washington and many other historical spots must have been very interesting and educational. Of course, Bob, Megan and I had presents — brought back from the trip—a shiny, antique copper tea pot and two lovely prints from The National Gallery of Art in Washington for Bob and me, and for Megan a pink and white organdy ensemble with matching bonnet.

How the time flies when we spend a day at Manapisu—there was scarcely time, after Megan's nap, to take some moving pictures and to eat a light supper before we had to gather our things together, tell the family we love so much "goodbye," and start for home.

My love,
Patty

Should you farm on the contour?

Are you trying to decide whether or not you should plant your crops on the contour?

Ralph C. Hay, soils and water engineer at the Illinois college of agriculture, says all sloping cropland with more than two per cent slope probably would benefit from contour farming.

If you have productive land with valuable topsoil to save, and smooth, uniform slopes—not irregular, choppy slopes—you also would probably benefit from contouring.

HAY POINTS OUT that farming on the contour rather than up and down the slopes helps to save both water and soil. It also increases crop yields an average of about 10 per cent.

One Illinois study of 124 farms showed an increase of 6.9 bushels an acre on the same farms over the 7-year period of 1939-1945 on contoured fields over fields farmed up and down the slopes. That increase amounted to 12 per cent.

You'll need to plan and lay out your fields for contouring, Hay says. You may have to remove some interior fences and change field arrangements to eliminate short rows. Plan wide sod waterways for turning across draws and sod turn strips at edges of field instead of rows planted on head lands.

IT'S IMPORTANT, too, that you plan for harvesting as well as plowing and planting.

Contour lines are fairly simple for you to lay out. If you are in doubt about how to proceed, see your county farm adviser, county soil conservation district office or PMA office. For additional information, ask for Circular 575, "How to Farm on the Contour," or write directly to the College of Agriculture, Urbana, for a copy.

Early leaf eaters curbed by DDT, friendly beetles

Don't stomp on the ground beetles. These insects which have to duck descending heels and broomstick handles are among the best friends of your trees. They make up a large family of beetles most of whom are worthwhile additions to your gardens. Among other pests they gulp cankerworms by the score.

F. R. Lancaster, technical adviser of the Davey tree expert company, says ground beetles are nice to have around, but they are not a sure control against the early leaf eaters, such as the cankerworms, tent caterpillars or coddling moths. So as soon as leaves begin to unfold, best bet is to get out the trusty spray gun, apply DDT or an effective stomach poison.

Unfortunately for the ground beetles and your trees, these beetles are more ominous looking than the destructive cankerworm, also known as the inchworm or looper. Ground beetles come in an assortment of colors, ranging from black to brown and blue-green. Black ones are commonest. They usually lurk under rocks. When hungry, they scurry up trees in search of their prey. They have ferocious looking jaws. Some secrete an offensive liquid used in defense.

The cankerworm, a common pest, is called a looper because it crawls by drawing up the middle of the body into an arch or loop. It has an uncanny ability to time its appearace with the breaking of the leaf buds. The larvae are voracious feeders, particularly liking the elm, oak, apple, linden, beech and many other fruit and ornamental trees.

Trees defoliated for two or three successive years will become weakened. That's because leaves are the food manufacturing "factories" of trees.

LAW on the FARM

Animal protection laws.

Almost everybody knows that bullfighting is not lawful in Illinois or in any other state. It is prohibited both by federal and state law. A similar ban exists on cock, bear and dog fighting or "baiting" and on the baiting of any other animal. These laws are partly for the protection of the animals, and partly to protect what is frequently referred to in law as the "sensibilities" of the American people.

But there are a number of laws designed wholly for the protection of animals—anti-cruelty laws they are sometimes called. In Illinois, the following are all prohibited by law:

CRUELLY WORKING, beating, mutilating or tormenting any animal.

Cruelly killing an animal.

Abandoning any old, maimed, infirm, sick or disabled animal.

Cutting the solid part of a horse's tail in the operation known as docking.

Selling or giving away living baby chicks, ducklings, or other fowls or pets, when they have been dyed or artificially colored.

CONFINING ANIMALS in a railroad car for more than 36 hours without feed and water. (The federal law, applying to animals shipped across state lines, limits the time to 28 hours.)

Killing, trapping or interfering with carrier pigeons.

Keeping live pigeons for target purposes.

This may seem like quite an array of laws for the protection of animals, but most European countries have gone even further than Illinois. In Norway, for example, it is unlawful to put rings in a hog's snout, force-feed poultry, castrate poultry or use live fish for bait. Ear notches cannot take more than one-third of an animal's ear; castration is permissible only with an anaesthetic, and except for cattle and pigs under three months of age, and lambs, all castrating must be done by a veterinary. Furthermore, each Norwegian parish (county) has an elected animal protection committee, with investigational and enforcing power.

Pick Newcastle disease vaccine for the job

Pick your Newcastle disease vaccine for the job it has to do.

That's the advice of Dr. J. O. Alberts, University of Illinois college of veterinary medicine. Three types of vaccine are available. One live virus vaccine is injected into the wing web, another live virus vaccine is given by way of the nose or eye, and a killed virus vaccine is injected into the muscles.

The live virus vaccine which is given by way of the eye or nose is so mild that it can be used on baby chicks. And you can use it on laying hens without seriously affecting egg production. It protects chicks until they are broiler age. Birds that are kept for layers should be revaccinated when they enter the laying house.

AN ADVANTAGE of the live virus vaccine injected into the wing web is that it usually produces a lasting, durable immunity, but it can cause some of the symptoms of Newcastle disease. For best results it should be used on birds from 1 to 4 months old. It should not be used on laying flocks.

The killed virus vaccine has the advantage of being harmless and unable to produce the disease. However, it produces a variable immunity which sometimes lasts only a short time.

Dr. Alberts says each of the vaccines will protect your chickens against Newcastle disease if it is used properly. The important thing to do is to pick the right vaccine for the job.

Fancy poultry water chemicals do little good

You can save the money you pay for fancy disinfectants and colored chemical to add to your poultry's water, says Farm Adviser Carl F. Mees.

If the water on your farm is good enough for you and your family, it's also suitable for your poultry without adding such chemicals as hypochlorite powders or potassim permanganate.

In some cases chemicals added to the water may actually be harmful. If the chemicals cause the chickens to drink less water than they should, poultry health and egg production may suffer.

Another thing: Mees says almost all of these disinfectants that are added to the poultry water are useless in about 30 minutes after they are used. Feed, droppings, litter and other materials that get into water quickly destroy the effectiveness of the disinfectants.

Farm auction

Short supplies of meat in summer

Meat supplies will be short this summer as feeding and production adjustments are being made to keep up with the effects of price ceilings and controls, H. M. Conway, director of research, reports in the May issue of National Live Stock Producer.

"The price outlook has great influence on the orderly marketing of meat animals," Conway writes, "and the heavy marketing of sows and lighter weight hogs the past few months will not only cut down on the number of market pigs available for summer and fall markets but also on the number of packing sows that normally made up a considerable share of the supper pork supply.

"THE PORK situation may not become evident until a lowering of the supply — probably in mid-May—and an increase in demand should justify a considerably higher price for live hogs. Such an advance would be reflected in only moderately higher retail prices.

"Beef supplies during the summer will also be down as a result of the uncertainty of the market during the past fall and winter which caused many feeders to market cattle prematurely or short of finish. Other feeders put their cattle on pasture or roughage and plan to finish them with this season's corn which will delay marketing until winter or early spring.

"CURRENT PRICE controls have been significant in depressing the fed lamb market during the past winter and lamb supplies are expected to continue short until mid-summer when an increase in marketing may be expected. However, with the increase in sheep production slowing up it is important that the present crop be quite evenly distributed over the crop year. This involves a rather heavy movement of feeder lambs through feedlots in order to assure a reasonably adequate supply during the winter and early spring.

Guards help prevent machine accidents

Farmers have no excuse for working around power take-offs and other moving farm machinery parts without safety guards in place.

The stakes are too high for you to gamble against having an accident by working around farm machinery without guards. If you lose, it's too late to be sorry.

See your power implement dealer if you do not have standard power take-off hitches and shields. You can get hitches and adapter packages for power-driven implements from dealers representing the makers of the equipment. But the best shield made gives no protection if it is not used properly.

Store winter electrical equipment right

Don't let hot weather cause unnecessary wear on your winter electrical equipment after you store it away.

Frank Andrew, farm electrical specialist in the University of Illinois college of agriculture, urges you to store cords and appliances in a dry, reasonably cool place. Moisture and heat are bad.

Cords will keep best if they're stored in uniform, loose coils, laid flat. Do not hang them over nails or sharp corners that may cause breaks in the insulation.

Also, check the outside ground rod connections on the electric wiring system for each of your buildings. It's common to have a connection rooted up by hogs. Broken or worn connections should be replaced to protect your buildings from lightning and yourself from electric shock.

Flies tougher this year on local farms

We're up against tough flies, warns Capper's Farmer. Flies have become more resistant to DDT and other insecticides than when the sprays were first used. Reason is the weak pests were killed off and flies with resistant characteristics multiplied.

Better than average sanitation and potent chemicals are required to control flies now, says the nationally-circulated farm magazine. Keeping barns, hog-houses, henhouses and feed lots clean and dry and spreading fly-breeding material on fields so it dries out are jobs that must be done regularly during the fly season. Tests at land-grant colleges have shown that better-than-good sanitation on the farm results in excellent fly control. This is even true with insecticide-resistant flies.

HERE ARE CHEMICALS to use and when to use them, suggested by Harold Gunderson, Iowa State college entomologist. On dairy cows, spray 0.5 percent methoxychlor (wettable powder) as soon as horn flies appear. Repeat every 2 weeks until stable flies or horseflies appear. Then spray daily with activated pyrethrins emulsion or oil solution using 1 to 6 ounces spray per cow after morning milking.

In dairy barn and other farm buildings, spray 2.5 to 5 percent methoxychlor wettable powder or emulsion spray inside barn on walls and ceilings. Repeat if necessary in cool weather. During hot months, spray 0.25 to 0.5 percent lindane on walls and ceilings. Apply on outside walls to kill resting stable flies. Or soak heavy cord or narrow strips of screen wire in methoxychlor or lindane concentrate and tack to barn ceilings.

On beef cattle, spray 0.5 percent DDT or 0.5 percent methoxychlor for horn flies early in the season. Repeat in 2 to 4 weeks if necessary. Set up self-spraying chute at water tanks, so cattle on pasture can treat themselves with repellent sprays.

Jewel sales up

Jewel Tea Co., Inc. sales for the four weeks ended April 19, 1952 were $16,525,706, an increase of $869,908 or 5.6% over the same four weeks of 1951.

Retail sales for the first sixteen weeks of this year totaled $66,334,568, a gain of 3.6% over sales of $64,015,749 a year ago.

Wedge Used to Fasten Hammer Head Securely

AN ORDINARY wood screw may be used to make a wedge which will keep a hammer or hatchet head firmly on its handle. Before it is driven into place, the screw is flattened so that it has a triangular shape, as illustrated in Popular Mechanics. The wedge will be held firmly in place by the teeth which are formed by the flattened screw threads.

Lindane recommended to control wireworms

The best method known to date to reduce wireworm damage in cornfields is a lindane seed treatment, says farm adviser Carl F. Mees. He says the chemical treatment costs only 15 to 20 cents an acre.

Lindane has not been tested widely by scientists. But J. H. Bigger, survey entomologist, has inspected dozens of seed-treated fields during the past two summers and many untreated fields in the same areas. In many treated fields he found 10 to 51 per cent damage from wireworms. But in untreated fields many farmers had to replant.

From many field observations, here are two conditions which make lindane seed treatment most effective:

1. Apply lindane powder dry to corn in the planter. If lindane is used as a slurry or applied to wet seed, there is danger that germination will be seriously affected.

2. Follow the manufacturer's directions about amounts to apply to seed corn.

April rainfall light

Rainfall in April was but 1.63 inches or much less than the average for the month of 2.85 inches, records kept by Fred B. Morgan of Crystal Lake, show. Rainfall for April other years was: 1951—2.89, 2 in. snow; 1950—6.04, 3½ in. snow; 1949—2.09, 2 in. snow; 1948—2.47, 1947—5.74, 2 in. snow; 1946—.89; 1945—4.52; 1944—3.10; 1943—2.91; 1942—.65; 1941—1.78. Average—2.85 inches. Temperatures for the month were far above average.

Roller skating party

The Student Council is having a roller skating party at the Arlington Roller Rink Monday evening, May 12. The fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades are all members of the Student Council.

Baseball game

The Elk Grove baseball team played a game with the Prospect Heights school team May 7.

Field trip

Mrs. Sulzbach's fourth and fifth grade students and Mrs. Hinneberg's fifth and sixth grade students went on a field trip to the Museum of Science and Industry Tuesday. They went on many interesting tours, including the coal mine and the doll house.

Eighth grade registers

At the meeting of the eighth graders and their parents with the high school representatives May 1, they were informed of the curriculum of the high school and most students registered for their freshman courses.

Registration for new first graders

Any child who is six, or will be six by December 1, should register at the school Tuesday, May 20, for the coming year. Miss Burgh, school nurse, and Mrs. Allison, first grade teacher, will be here all day to register the children. If you know of any child who will be in this classification, please ask his parents to register him on that date. There will be no school for the present first graders on that date.

Moving

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Fessler and their daughter, Darla Jean, a third grade pupil, are moving to Elgin. The third graders had a party for Darla Jean and were served a delicious cake.

Home from hospital

Mrs. Henry Maas of State rd. is recovering at home from her recent stay in the hospital.

Open house

Pasvogel's Greenhouse held Open House Saturday and Sunday, May 3 and 4. They presented the ladies with baby orchids, the men with cigars and the children with candy bars.

Trip to Hot Springs

Mrs. Clarence Goede went on a two-week vacation to Hot Springs, Ark. She was accompanied on this trip by three friends from Des Plaines.

Confirmed

Carl Popp was confirmed in St. Mary's church May 7 and Dickie Hartmann was confirmed at the Congregational church Sunday, May 4.

The men who participated in the clean up drive deserve a vote of thanks for the good job they did. Mrs. Leissman and Mrs. Nuss served home made doughnuts and hot coffee to those who helped.

Bobbie Shillington is at home with chicken pox. His parents celebrated their eighteenth wedding anniversary May 5.

Janice Balducci took part in a music recital held at the Portage Park grammar school last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kremer and daughter. Ruth, of Danforth, Ill., were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Koets.

Sunday visitors at the Leissmans were Mr. and Mrs. Sonnezker of Chicago.

We are sorry to lose our good neighbors the Kupickas, who will make their home in Stonegate.

MARGARET WALLOR Ph. Arlington Heights 7167-R

Wilson Community

A fine program has been planned for the PTA meeting Friday evening, May 10, and this will precede the business portion of the meeting. The sixth graders will give a radio skit. Mary Kingsley and Pat Simms will sing a duet, and Bob Ryan will play his accordion. The new officers will be installed at the close of the evening.

Friday at 8:45 a. m. two busses will leave the Wilson school loaded with the children, teachers and mothers for a trip to Lincoln Park to visit the Historical Museum and the zoo. Transportation is free. Those going are asked to bring their lunch. The busses are scheduled to return to the school at 3 p. m.

Miss Lucy Driscoll, assistant county superintendent of schools, visited Wilson school May 1. She commended the teachers for their splendid work in spite of the crowded conditions this year.

Sympathies are extended to the Graham family from the entire community. Mrs. Emma B. Graham, mother of 14 children, died last Thursday morning, and funeral services were held Monday at St. Peter's Lutheran church. All the children were with their mother at the time of her death with the exception of one boy, Billy, who is with the merchant marines and could not be contacted. The Grahams moved to their home on Olive st. from Chicago about a year ago and have endeared themselves to the entire neighborhood.

Mrs. A. Magnussen's nephew, Oscar Manz of Lemberg, Sask., Canada, is visiting at the Magnussen residence.

Ray Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Miller, played a piano solo at a recital last Sunday given at the South school by the Arlington Heights School of Music.

Chuckie Simmonds is back in school after a month's absence due to illness.

Happy birthday to the following school children who had birthdays in May: Patsy Costellanos, Pat Boyd, Robert Cunningham, Jeanine Grieffen, Edith Graham, Marilyn Zbilski and Thomas Graham.

The Clever Clover 4-H club held a pressing party last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. E. Shulse in Arlington Heights. The Public Service Co. loaned three irons for demonstration, and Mary Kingsley and Marlene Krambier gave lessons on pressing different type seams on various materials.

MRS. FRANK MacKNIGHT Ph. Arlington Heights 3717-M

In hospital

Mrs. Howard Johnson of 612 Foundry rd. entered the Evanston hospital Sunday in preparation for an operation Tuesday. She expects to be there from one to two weeks. Her two boys, Kenny and Ricky, are staying with her mother, Mrs. Hartman, in Chicago. Her daughter, Joyce, is in the same building with her brothers staying with Mr. Johnson's sister, Mrs. Sickels.

Visit here

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence of 600 Oriole lane were visited overnight by their son, Dick, who has been stationed at camp in New Jersey. Their other son, Bob, called them recently from Honolulu; he is stationed in Hawaii.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dorac of 628 Foundry rd. enjoyed a short visit from an old friend last week. Capt. James A. Moree from Haperville, Ga., and his wife were with the Dorlac's in World War II. The Captain and his family then spent three years in Japan and the last three years in the States. He flew in enroute to California for the Far East command.

Celebrates birthday

Mickey Brazeau of 428 Foundry rd. was 4 years old April 22 He celebrated his birthday Sunday with a party on the patio. Attending were Renee and Rose Ann Tobotkay and young David Porter of Chicago.

Changes position

Stewart Richmond of 600 Albion has affiliated himself recently with a new firm. He is with W. C. Becker Inc., coffee brokerages. Mr. Richmond celebrated his birthday May 3 with an all day golfing jaunt.

Members of the community are reminded that the inspectors will be by their homes May 8 and 9. Be prepared for their visit.

MRS. JOS. REMSING Ph. VAnderbilt 4-8482

Forest River

Tony Koslowski of Brookfield ave., is a patient at the Edward Hines hospital since April 26. He may have to undergo surgery, but for the present he is just there for observation.

Mag Remsing returned home early last Monday morning from attending the funeral of a relative in Pittsburgh. Mag left early last Thursday and traveled by Greyhound bus to Ft. Wayne, Ind. and then with friends continued by car to Pittsburgh for the funeral, which was held Friday morning. After a short visit, all returned by car to Ft. Wayne and Mag by bus to Chicago and then home. A lot of traveling for just four days.

Jim Mantas entered the Evanston hospital Friday for tests.

The Forest River Community club will hold their regular monthly meeting Friday at the Club house at 8:30 p.m.

On May 23rd the addition to the Club house will be formally dedicated and the community is invited to attend these festivities.

On May 24th the Anniversary dance will be celebrated. The Community club will celebrate their fourteenth birthday with a hard-times party. Tickets can be had from the officers of the Community club and also the Ladies auxiliary, in care of Mrs. Remsing. The price for admission is $1 per person.

The Feehanville school situation, which was to have had a decision last week by the Elk Grove trustees, was transferred to the county superintendent's office.

The Forest River Welfare will meet May 21.

The Ladies auxiliary will hold their regular monthly meeting May 20 combined with the secret pal revealing and pot luck

Next selective service college qualification test planned May 22

An additional selective service college qualification test will be given Thursday, May 22, for the benefit of students who were unable to take the April 24 test.

Applications for the special May 22 test must be postmarked not later than May 10. Tickets of admission to previous tests will not be honored for the May 22 test.

To be eligible to take the test a student must not previously have taken a selective service college qualification test and must be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time college course. Scores will be used by the local boards in considering the eligibility of registrants for occupational deferment as students.

One-fifth of Illini undergrads get scholarship aid

Nearly a fifth of the University of Illinois' 16,000 undergraduate students on the Urbana, Navy Pier, and Chicago Professional campuses are being helped through school by scholarship funds.

Each year the school distributes more than 3,000 scholarships worth a total of $290,700. Most of these, 2,731 last year, are for tuition alone. Five are available for students from each county plus 66 extra for Cook county. Each county awards one general scholarship and one each for home economics, agriculture, and one each to a child of a veteran of World Wars I and II. There are also state scholarships for Illinois veterans.

THE REST, nearly 400, are for specific sums ranging from $50 to $1,000 which will generally cover tuition plus some money for books and supplies.

Probably the most unusual of these special grants is the Dunlap Harrington Memorial Fund.

The memorial, begun by the family of a Wenham, Mass., youth who died while a student at Illinois, is a $50 gift to a senior man "who is financially unable to take part in the special events of the semester."

The gift in past years has been used to help buy a suit for graduation . . . to bring a mother to the campus to see her son graduate . . . to take a girl to the Senior Ball . . . to buy something to brighten the ending of four years of college.

One of the largest grants is that given by Dr. Harry and Mrs. Harriette Wright, of DeKalb. The Wrights left their northern Illinois farms to the university stipulating that the income should be used to give scholarships to worthy students, particularly those interested in agriculture and areas related to agriculture. The awards are for $400 plus all fees.

Modern Etiquette

Q. Is it proper to apply rouge or lipstick in public?

A. The application of rouge in public is out of order. Conventions have relaxed enough, however, to permit a woman to repair her lipstick at the table after a meal. Otherwise, it is better to avoid all make-up repairs in public.

Q. Is it proper for one to use the spoon to test the temperature of one's coffee?

A. This is quite proper, and is far better than burning the mouth, or perhaps sputtering out the liquid. But after testing it, the spoon should be left in the saucer and the remainder of the coffee sipped from the cup.

Q. If the double-ring marriage service is used, does the bridegroom purchase both rings?

A. He buys just his bride's ring, and she buys the ring for her husband.

Q. My fiance, who is now in training camp, and I are planning to be married during his first furlough at home. Will it be all right for him to wear his uniform, while his male attendants wear tuxedos?

A. It would be much better, if he wears his uniform, for the other men to wear dark business suits. Of course, it would be still better, if he is free to doff his uniform, for him and his men to wear their tuxedos.

Q. Does the old ten-per-cent tipping rule still hold good in restaurants?

A. The percentage now is usually about 15 per cent, and in night clubs a dollar per person is the generally accepted standard.

Q. When a mourning band is worn, how wide should it be?

A. It should be from 3½ to 4½ inches wide, and made of dull serge or broadcloth.

Q. When is the double card for man and wife in good use?

A. It is sent with wedding presents, with flowers to a funeral, with gifts to high school or college graduates, or with any other gift that comes from both. It is, of course, also used for formal visits.

Q. If a man brings a gift when calling on a girl, should she open it immediately, or lay it aside until he has gone?

A. She would show an extreme lack of breeding and manners if she laid it aside. She should open it at once.

Q. Is it necessary that one bid each person good-by individually when leaving a group of persons to whom one has just been introduced?

A. No; one cordial "good-by" can include the entire group.

Q. Whom should a bridegroom choose as his best man?

A. This is entirely up to him. He may choose his brother, his closest friend, or a brother of the bride.

Bits o' business

Industrial production rose to 222 per cent of the 1934-39 average in February and maintained the pace in March . . . Unemployment during March dropped to 1,804,000 persons, the lowest for that month since World War II. However, employment also dipped to 59,714,000 — indicating a decline in the available manpower . . . Egg prices are now down to 38 cents a dozen wholesale in Chicago from 71 cents lost November . . . Chain store and mail order sales were at $2.4 billion in February — a gain of five per cent over the same 1951 month. When the extra day is accounted for, though, the rise is barely perceptible

Prof suggests new 'North Loop' rail station in city

Addressing the 28th annual meeting and regional planning conference of the Chicago Regional planning association Tuesday at the LaSalle hotel, Stanley Berge, professor of transportation at Northwestern university, urged immediate steps be taken to improve and expand Chicago's suburban railroad service.

Self-propelled multiple-unit diesel trains, such as the Budd RDC cars recently placed in suburban service by the Chicago and North Western railway, were recommended by Berge as "the best available technology for solving both the suburban and secondary mainline passenger service problems" of the railroads. They can be operated from either end, can be efficiently enlarged or contracted to serve either large or small traffic demands and are especially economical for frequent service.

OBSERVING that the principal troubles with railroad suburban service are poverty and obsolescence, Berge said, "suburban fares must be brought to a more reasonable conformity with cost of service and with value of service measured by the cost of alternative transportation by automobile and other means."

Driving a car costs a commuter 3½ cents out-of-pocket per mile plus parking, which often adds 2 cents to 5 cents per mile. Elevated fares average 2 to 3 cents per mile. Yet, railroad commutation fares in 1951 averaged only about 1½ cents per mile with some fares less than one cent per mile.

TO IMPROVE Chicago's suburban rail service north and west, Berge recommended consideration be given to the possibilities of a north Loop suburban station for the Chicago and North Western railway in the vicinity of its State street yard on the north bank of the Chicago river.

If feasible, such an additional suburban station would relieve the congestion in the Madison street terminal and provide convenient fast transportation to northern and western suburbs from the popular north loop area. Present track arrangements would require relatively little change to permit direct train service from the Wrigley Building to Oak Park, Barrington, Winnetka, and other suburbs north and west."

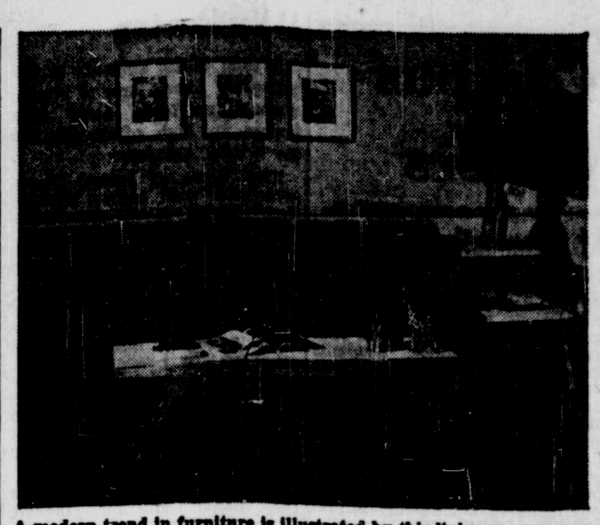
Deny PS Co. additional gas for industries

The Illinois commerce commission denied application the Public Service company of Northern Illinois requested which asked to increase its gas supply to industrial users.

The company had asked to use up to 500 therms per day for the industrial users, for purposes other than space heating. This figure would total 15,000 therms a month. Their previous limit was 4,000 per month for industrial users.

The commission, in denying the petition, considered that as of April 1 the company has 54,000 applications for heating in single family residences pending, additional applications are pouring into the company at a rate of 4,000 per month.

The ICC observed that an increase of industrial gas would absorb all of the remaining pipe line capacity, and force the company to draw on its emergency supply of storage or other gas.



A modern trend in furniture is illustrated by this living room grouping, in which livability and taste are combined. Hardwood veneers which display natural wood grain figures are a mainstay of the best designers of contemporary American furniture pieces.

About your health

Normally a person is born with about 206 bones which, of course, do not usually break unless there is rather severe pressure or injury. However, some people have a tendency to break one or more bones by merely sneezing, and these are the ones referred to as having "brittle bones."

There are children who, unfortunately, spend most of their lives in hospitals mending their broken bones because of this brittle quality. Just why these bones are so brittle is not known to medical science. The results of laboratory tests do not indicate a lack of minerals or other substances in the body, or even a deficiency of hormones, which are chemical substances normally produced in the body.

Even though the exact cause of this brittleness is not known, heredity seems to be a factor, since studies have revealed this characteristic in families.

BONES NORMALLY have a definite quality and straightness. In the femur, or thigh bone, for example, these characteristics provide proper support for the body. If the bone were to become crooked, however, it would break quite easily because the weight of the body and the pull of the surrounding muscles place it at a mechanical disadvantage. This is true of the normal shin bone, or tibia, and the arm bone called the humerus. On the other hand not all crooked bones, such as bowed legs, are necessarily brittle.

Some straight bones may break easily that would not fall within the classification of "brittle bones," but rather from weak-cysts.

UNTIL RECENTLY, children with this brittle quality in their nesses brought on by tumors or bone could not walk because of the repeated fractures. It is an interesting fact that in many instances a child, after passing through adolescence, loses the tendency to have bones break so easily, while other youngsters having this brittle quality continue to break their bones throughout their adult lives. Again, the reason for this variation is not known.

Many medical and surgical procedures have been attempted to overcome the repeated fractures resulting from the brittle quality of the bones. One that has proved successful in a number of instances is the removal of the bone from the body. For example a femur is removed and cut into several sections and rearranged in an effort to obtain the straightest alignment. It may be necessary to turn some pieces end for end, or even rotate them. Then a metal rod is inserted to hold the pieces in line and to provide a slide support so they will not break so easily in the future.

WHEN THIS procedure is accomplished the bone is returned to its position in the leg and fastened to the growing ends of the bone, at the top and the bottom. The growing ends of the bone are never removed from the body, since these growing sections must remain in the body to renew again the growth of the bone.

Avoid the slang term "thusly." The correct form is "thus."

Do not say, "I'm afraid I cannot go." Say, "I fear I cannot go."

"Type" should always be followed by "of" when used with a noun. This is a very satisfactory type of machine," and "He is a fine type of man." Not "type machine" nor "type man."

Avoid saying, "What did you do that for?" It is much better to say, "Why did you do that?"

Do not say, "I am through with my dinner." Say, "I have finished my dinner."

Do not say, "I've got to go now." Say, "I have to go now," or, "I must go now."

Words often mispronounced

Potpourri. Pronounce po-poo-re, first o as in no, oo as in moon, e as in me unstressed, principal accent on last syllable.

Explicable. Accent first syllable, not the second.

Photogenic. Pronounce the third syllable as jen, not as jeen, and accent third syllable.

Soliloquize (to talk to one's self) and soliloquist (the noun). Pronounce the final i in the verb as in quite. Pronounce the final i in the noun as in quiz.

Autopsy. Accent first syllable, not the second.

Words often misspelled

Compound terms such as twenty-two ,thirty-six, and fifty-two are spelled with a hyphen. Bicycle, cy; icicle, ci. Convalescence; observe the sc. Attorneys; eys, and not ies, Lama, (one l), a Tibetan priest; llama (two l's), a camel-like animal of South America. Contagious, ious; advantageous, eous.

Word study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Hiatus; a gap or opening; interruption. (Pronounce hi-a-tus, i as in high, a as in ate, accent second syllable). "There came a hiatus in their talk."

Anomalous; deviating from normal order; irregular; abnormal. (Pronounce second syllable nom, o as in on, accent second syllable). "The anomalous procedure of the morning service was necessitated by the pastor's tardiness."

Prodigality; extravagance in expenditure. "Because of prodigality during his youth, his estate is worthless."

Dubious; occasioning doubt. (Pronounce the u as in cube). "It was a dubious answer."

Intercept; to interrupt the course of. "The letter was intercepted."

Inviolable: that must not or cannot be violated. (Accent follows the second i). "We must obey these inviolable laws."

Bits o' business

Purchases of farm machinery and equipment reached a record $3 billion last year, five times the 1940 level. In the last three years farmers have purchased more than double what they did between 1930 and 1940 . . . World tin production totaled 13,500 long tons in February, a drop of 600 tons from the previous month . . . During the first quarter furniture makers booked 10 per cent fewer orders by value compared with the first 1951 quarter. Shipments were down 16 per cent and the backlog of unfilled orders was off 42 per cent.

Great Lakes to open doors armed forces day

One day each year any person in the United States can enter the gates of the Great Lakes naval training center without showing any identification and without any reason other than an interest in the navy. This year that day will be May 17—armed forces day.

Each department at Great Lakes will have an exhibit; there will be a recruit review with 5,000 participating men, a band concert, a bus tour of the center and a barge which will give visitors a ride around the Great Lakes harbor. All of this will be free.

Great Lakes now is the world's largest naval training center, but visitors who attended the commissioning in 1911 saw only 10 brick buildings, all still in use.

Gradually from 1939 until 1941, the capacity and size of the station was built up. At the height of World War II more than 10,000 men and women were "on board."

Currently, Great Lakes occupies approximately 1300 acres and has more than 600 buildings. Not including the U. S. naval hospital, a separate command, more than 25,000 sailors of both sexes are undergoing recruit training, attending school or handling administrative jobs.

At Mundelein

Who invented the exam? Was it Socrates or Plato, Cicero or Cato?

This catch line from an original song is the big question at Mundelein college, where 90 students are working together on the first all-college musical show in Mundelein history, to be presented May 9, 10, and 11, in the college theatre, 6363 Sheridan rd., at 8:00 p. m.

Anne Llewellyn, 20, 4506 Beacon st., has written the book, the lyrics and the music for the show, a campus comedy titled "Not In The Books."

Set on a woman's college campus adjacent to a men's college campus, the play concerns student life, campus politics, the charm of the eternal feminine, and assorted sense and nonsense, revealed sparklingly in 15 songs and various dance routines.

Chosen from the entire student body, the cast includes Miss Joan Cahill, 602 S. Belmont, Arlington Heights, as Dolores, a campus politician campaigning for the office of student activities council president.

At Illinois

Forty-four students from Arlington Heights are enrolled in the University of Illinois this semester.

And there are 8,555 from Cook county.

Of the 20,837 enrolled at the three branches, 15,655 are men, 5,182 women. Undergraduate total 16,848; post-graduate 3,989.

Students come from every county in the state, from all states except Nevada, from five U. S. possessions, and from 60 foreign countries.

Approximately 88% live in Illinois, 12% elsewhere.

From cities come 17,330 undergraduates; from farms 1,436.

Average age: undergraduate women 19.74 years; men 19.04 years.

Campus Capers

At Monmouth

To give students an opportunity to express their Christian convictions, a Gospel Team program is maintained each year at Monmouth college. Students from all departments interested in Christian service participate. The teams conduct a variety of church services, lead young peoples' meetings, visit the country home and provide leadership for many of the campus Christian meetings. Two cars, gifts of Dr. Samuel Fulton of West Allis, Wis., provide transportation for the groups.

This year six teams of four or more members each are volunteering their services. Included on one of the teams is Marilyn Schlemmer of Mt. Prospect.

At Wittenberg

Marjorie Payne, 709 S. Ioka ave., Mt. Prospect, has been tapped by Phi Delta Pi, national physical education honorary at Wittenberg, college, Springfield, Ohio.

A physical education major, Marjorie is pledged to Chi Omega, social sorority, and is active in journalistic activities.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Payne, were weekend guests at the annual Chi Omega parents week-end. Mr. Payne spoke on behalf of the parents at the concluding banquet.

At Iowa State

Miss Marilyn Franke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Franke of Arlington Heights, was activated into the Pi Phi sorority at Iowa State college Sunday. Miss Franke is a freshman at the college.

Students on campus are now busy preparing for the Veishea, their annual spring festival, which will be held May 15-17. Miss Franke is in charge of the freshman home economics displays and will also enter the canoe races for her dormitory.

At Northwestern

A total of 230 students in the college of liberal arts of Northwestern university have won honors for high scholarship for the winter quarter.

Two types of honors were awarded: "with highest distinction," which means practically perfect work, or "straight A"; and "with distinction," which means a grade of "B plus." Sixty-three students received "with highest distinction," and 167 received "highest distinction."

The college of liberal arts, located on the Evanston campus, is the largest school of the University, with an enrollment of some 1900 full-time students. It is also the oldest school of Northwestern, having opened its doors in 1855.

The names and addresses of the "honor" students include Albert Charles Claus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Claus, 105 N. Lancaster st., Mt. Prospect.

At Knox

Erica Jung, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erich Jung, 710 Ridge ave., Arlington Heights, has been awarded a full-tuition scholarship at Knox college, according to announcement by admissions director David T. Robinson.

Previously, Miss Jung had received a prize scholarship at Knox on the basis of results of a competitive examination held in February. The new award, known as the Harold J. Szold scholarship, goes to Miss Jung in place of the prize scholarship and is an amount three times as large.

The Arlington Heights township high school senior recently won honorable mention in the last science talent search conducted by the Westinghouse corporation.

At MIT

Robert James Hinds of Arlington Heights, a junior at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Mass., has been accorded first honors with a scholastic average of 4.50-5.00, and has been named on the dean's list.

Bob gradoated from Arlington high in 1949 and was valedictorian of his class.

At Illinois

Nancy J. McCarty, 717 S. Mitchell, Arlington Heights, has been named assistant scholarship department chairman of the panhellenic executive committee at the University of Illinois.

Panhellenic is a national organization of social sororities. The executive committee at Illinois is the governing and policy making body for the 26 sororities on the campus.

It has seven departments, each of whose chairmen meets with chairmen of each sorority to determine policies and organization and to give suggestions.

At Ripon

Janet Haberkamp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Haberkamp, Mount Prospect, a freshman at Ripon college, Ripon, Wis., will sing with the chorus in the Ver-Adest show.

The show, entitled, "Of All Things," will be held this week end. Her parents plan to attend the Thursday performance.

Good planting can help blend house and grounds

Making your house blend with its grounds involves more than just putting plants around the foundation. But the rules for good planting are simple and easy to follow.

H. R. Kemmerer, extension landscape specialist at the Illinois College of Agriculture, says there are three things plantings should do to tie house and grounds together: (1) bring out good architectural points, (2) hide bad design and (3) correct unpleasing proportions.

Kemmerer suggests that you keep the planting design simple to bring out good architectural points. Also, repeat the main lines of your house in the plantings.

IF YOUR HOUSE has high, perpendicular lines, use tall, pointed plantings for harmony. If its lines are low and horizontal, use low rounded masses of plants. Always keep the plants in scale with the house. For example, tall trees won't look well in front of a low, one-story house.

Hiding bad design in your house isn't difficult. Usually just a tree or shrub placed in front of the poorly designed area will do the trick. To pick out parts with bad design, study your house carefully from the road and take several photographs from different angles.

Two common types of unpleasing proportions are too much height for width and too much width for height. To make a tall building look lower, plant tall, slender trees and shrubs close to the house. Tall trees with overhanging foliage will cut down house heights.

TO BROADEN the lines of your house, extend the corner plantings beyond the sides of the house. Then plant rounded or horizontal shrubs at the front entrance and connect them with the corner plants by almost continuous planting.

Plant rounded trees and shrubs near a wide building, especially in the rear, to make it look more in proportion to its height.

Use corner planting of rounded plants. Tall, vertical plants along the face of the house will help to break the low horizontal lines, but don't put them at the sides. In that position they will make the house look lower and broader by contrast.

Here are a few other suggestions which will make your planting more successful:

Don't use too wide a variety of plants, especially those with off-color foliage. However, evergreens alone are often monotonous.

Don't let the plantings keep out light from your windows.

Keep the front entrance the center of interest—don't crowd it with plants.

Unless the foundation is very unattractive, leave at least part of it exposed. Otherwise, the house will look rather detached from the grounds.

Fifth Season

COMMUNITY CONCERTS — CARNEGIE HALL IN EVERY TOWN

1952—1953

MEMBERS FOR 1952-53 SEASON

will be enrolled

MAY 12 - 17

Again you will have the opportunity to enjoy national headliners of the concert world conveniently in your own community at small cost. The Community Concert Association will enroll members for the 1952-1953 season for six days, May 12 through May 17.

Memberships are available to everyone for this one week only; no other admissions will be sold. Membership dues for the four concerts are $6.00 for adults and $3.50 for students through college age.

Membership teams have been organized to call at homes in Arlington Heights, Palatine, Mount Prospect, Inverness, Prospect Heights and Wheeling. Get your membership from the association representative who calls on you or call any of the officers or team captains listed below. Memberships may also be obtained from association headquarters.

Purpose of the Community Concert Association

This association was formed four years ago in order to bring the finest of cultural entertainment to the community. During the past four seasons members have enjoyed leading personalities of the concert stage in person at small cost. Four major attractions cost less than you would spend to attend a single concert in the city. The association is non-profit. All funds are used to defray expenses of the concerts. The annual community concert season has become a permanent part of the life and culture of the community. Your support will help bring even greater attractions to Arlington Heights in the coming season.
